Governor Must Prove Right to Oust Walker

Roosevelt Called to Defend Action Before Justice Staley

Albany, N. Y.—(P)—A court order, demanding that Governor Roosevelt show cause why he should not be restrained from removing Mayor Walker and continuing the ouster hearing, was obtained today by counsel for the mayor. The governor was called upon to defend his action before Supreme Court Justice Ellis Staley tomorrow. The order was obtained from Justice John T. Loughran at Kingston.

Curtin declared last Sunday night that if he should attempt to halt the governor's decision he would move for a stay order before the hearing was completed.

He said he did not want to be in the position of locking the stable door after the horse was stolen.

The action recorded at Kingston today was the second successful effort to institute court procedure questioning the governor's power to pass upon the mayor's fitness to remain in office.

An attorney for George Donnelly, secretary of the Bronx Chamber of Commerce, last week obtained an order from Justice Harold Hinnman of the appellate division, calling upon Mr. Roosevelt to show cause why a writ of prohibition should not be issued. The Donnelly order also is before Justice Staley tomorrow.

Donnelly contends the governor, if he decided to remove Walker, would be violating the "home rule" provision of the state constitution.

Obtained by Glynn
The court order was obtained by John E. Bennett, Jr., attorney general, and M. M. Fertig, the executive counsel.

The Loughran order said in part: "It is ordered that the Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt as a trier of facts in pursuance to the greater New York City charter and the constitution of the state of New York show cause before this court why an alternative order of prohibition should not be made by this court directing him to refrain and desist from taking any steps toward the execution of enforcement of any order of removal of the present mayor of the city of New York."

The order also directed the governor why "he should not be absolutely restrained from proceeding further with the hearing and determination" of the proceedings.

ASKS DISMISSAL
Executive Chamber, Albany, N. Y.—(P)—Arguing that Governor Roosevelt should dismiss the ouster charges against Mayor James J. Walker of New York City, John J. Curtin, today defied "anyone to find an instance where he profited one cent at the expense of the city."

"When the reputation of the mayor of the world's greatest city is at stake," he said, "I am not only in favor of honestly and fearlessly enforcing all our laws but further I am opposed to the return of the mayor to the city."

"I believe in meeting the issue squarely," he said, "I am a strong believer in the rule of the majority and I feel that the people should at all times be given full opportunity to express their opinion on the constitution or amendments thereto, but personally, I am not only in favor of honestly and fearlessly enforcing all our laws but further I am opposed to the return of the mayor to the city."

Cannon Assails Hoover On Stand in Dry Issue

Leads Drive

Washington—(P)—John T. Cannon has been selected by the association against the prohibition amendment to lead what the chairman of its executive committee, John T. Cannon, has called "the drive to bring about promptly the ratification of the new amendment which congress will submit."

Curtis Voices Opposition to Dry Law Repeal

Expresses Confidence in Depression Relief in Acceptance Speech

Topeka—(P)—Voicing his personal opposition to repeal of the eighteenth amendment and expressing confidence in eventual success of administration efforts to bring relief from the depression, Vice President Curtis today accepted renomination by the Republicans.

The Kansans in his formal address of acceptance, said he felt the people "should at all times be given full opportunity to express their opinion on the constitution or amendments thereto, but personally, I am not only in favor of honestly and fearlessly enforcing all our laws but further I am opposed to the return of the mayor to the city."

Mr. Curtis made no mention in his prepared address of President Hoover's proposal for a change in prohibition under which each state would be given the right to determine the issue.

Geneva—(P)—President Hoover was charged today by Bishop James J. Cannon Jr. of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, with having surrendered "to the speakies, bootleggers and nullifiers of the constitution" in his speech of acceptance.

"The outstanding, indeed the overshadowing, part of Hoover's prohibition statement," he said in his criticism, "a statement which ran for considerable length, is the startling declaration by a president of the United States of the helplessness of his administration in its warfare against lawlessness, in its efforts to control what Hoover denominates the 'intolerable speakies and bootlegging' and to prevent 'practical nullification of the constitution.'"

"But is not the president himself responsible if his administration is as helpless as he now so suddenly declares in the very face of that most significant and encouraging official statement recently submitted to congress that consumption of intoxicants had diminished over 60 per cent since 1914?"

Aid Was Available
Had President Hoover in March, 1932, declared his purpose to enforce vigorously and efficiently the Volstead act and asked congress to furnish whatever men and money were necessary congress would have provided them, he said.

"And now, without having first appealed to congress for money and men to aid him in preventing nullification of the constitution," he said, "Hoover suddenly surrenders and declares the helplessness of his administration to enforce the constitution which he has sworn to uphold and defend."

"Would Jackson or Lincoln or Wilson have made such a declaration of administrative helplessness to uphold the constitution without a vigorous demand that congress give all possible aid?"

Too Indefinite
"And now to remedy the 'intolerable' conditions which he declares his administration cannot control, Hoover makes an indefinite, illogical and impracticable proposal that a new amendment be adopted, which amendment will permit the states to legalize the manufacture and sale of intoxicants but which will contain a guarantee that the federal government will prevent the return of the saloon and violation of the laws of dry states."

"Until Hoover specifically formulates a provision whereby he proposes to prevent the return of the saloon his proposal is simply an indefinite and glaring generalization. How will he define where the legal hotel or restaurant or drinking parlor ends and the illegal saloon begins?"

Difficult Problem
Really preventing the return of the saloon or its equivalent will be a more difficult, he said, than it has been to enforce the eighteenth amendment.

"Meanwhile," he added, "emphasis must be placed upon the election of senators and congressmen opposed to submission and repeal, political platforms and presidents are temporary. This is only one battle in the irrepressible warfare with alcohol, in which there can be no compromise, no retreat, no surrender until traffic in alcohol—the great enemy of social order has been practically abolished."

Legionnaires End
14th Convention

Helble Heads Ninth District—Name Schmalz Vice Commander

La Crosse—(P)—With plans already underway for their 1933 meeting in Jamestown, which will be presided over by George K. Howitt, Pawluka, the new state commander, members of the Wisconsin department of the American Legion turned homeward today from their fourteenth annual convention.

Although the legionnaires held their final business session yesterday afternoon, the newly chosen officers remained to discuss plans for the coming year and other delegates stayed over for group meetings and entertainments.

The "Ten Year Club," organized at the Chippewa Falls convention, held a business meeting and elected Dr. Christofferson, La Crosse president; George F. Plant, Milwaukee, vice president; C. A. Williams, Kiel, treasurer; and Stanley Morse, River Falls, secretary.

Commander Howitt will be assisted by the following newly installed officers:

Vice commanders: Art Schmalz, Kaukauna; William Salmela, West Salem; Walter Gurschman, Westburn; and John Fiedler, Menominee.

District commanders: First district, Lawrence H. Smith, Racine; second, J. B. Keenan, Lancaster; third, Francis T. McGovern, Milwaukee; fourth, J. W. Weisenfeld, La Crosse; fifth, Herbert Helble, Appleton; sixth, Henry Oakley, Oshkosh.

Sergeants-at-arms: Carl Schwam, Chippewa Falls; and Charles Plows, Milwaukee.

Chaplain: The Rev. Francis J. Bloodgood, Madison.

Dr. C. A. Dawson, River Falls, retiring state commander, was unanimously elected a member of the national executive committee.

Bandits Rob Beloit Bank; Get $50,000

President, Patron Slugged
As Seven Men Storm
Institution

Beloit, Wis.—(P)—A gang of seven daring robbers obtained between $40,000 and $50,000 in a spectacular holdup of the Second National bank today and escaped in an automobile amid police gun fire.

The robbers, carrying the money in laundry bags, facilitated their escape by making six girls, five of them bank employees, stand on the running boards of their Studebaker sedan. The girls were forced to cling precariously to the machine, in positions between the robbers and police who were descending on the bank.

Three blocks from the bank the girls were prodded with pistols and forced to jump off the slow moving machine.

Travel North
Then the car sped north over roads leading to Milwaukee. During the course of the holdup the robbers slugged two men, took a rifle away from a police sergeant and craftily deceived police when officers made telephone call to the bank to ascertain what the burglar alarm was ringing about.

There have been many false alarms. Shortly after 10 o'clock, the big sedan pulled up in an alley back of the bank. The seven men, six of them well dressed and the seventh wearing overalls, stormed into the bank, which is on Grand-ave, a few yards from Beloit's busiest business corner.

Only a few customers were in the bank but back of the cages the force was busy. The robber leader, a 6-footer weighing about 225 pounds, sprang nimbly over a railing and approached B. P. Eldred, president.

"It's a holdup," he said. "Open the vault."

Eldred protested and was promptly slapped over the head. He fell unconscious but was not seriously hurt, it was ascertained later.

Had Machine Guns
Several witnesses said they were carrying at least three machine guns.

Patrons and customers of the bank were forced to lie on the floor while money was taken from counters back of the cages. Two of the robbers went into the vault and presumably obtained some money.

Strike Customer
A. B. Cox, a customer, was struck over the head with a pistol. He was taken to a hospital for treatment.

Someone managed to make a telephone call to the police station. It was an incoherent report by a frightened man, but police sent a sergeant, who was promptly held up at the door and forced to join the group on the floor.

Chief of Police J. F. Kietz then hastened to the bank, arriving as the robbers were departing.

Chief Kietz fired several shots at the departing machine, but does not know whether he hit the machine or any of the robbers.

One man thrust a pistol in the back of Emily Menhall, an employee, and forced her to empty all cash drawers into one of the laundry bags.

Warns Employees
Then the robber leader faced the employees and said:

"Unless the vault is opened someone is going to be bumped off," Russell Mason, cashier, unlocked the vault. Three robbers entered and made deliberate inspection of the contents.

They took only currency, between $40,000 and $50,000 which the bank had on hand to meet several large payrolls. They spent all the securities, even tossing aside government bonds.

About this time the telephone rang. Lyle Munn, vice president, was forced to answer it. The call came from the police station, and Munn was commanded to say that the bank alarm had been turned on inadvertently.

But the alarm sounded again, and Desk Sergeant Fred Stockwell sped to the bank with a wife. He ran through the door to face a sub-machine gun. He was disarmed and forced to lie with the rest.

The car was drawing away and the robbers were in the rear when a third car arrived. He got into the car and several times, but hesitated to get out at the car. The machine, he said, had Wisconsin license plates the number being either 235-815 or 235-655.

"It was the first bank robbery in the history of Beloit," announced the police chief, "and the robbers were armed with sub-machine guns and a variety of other weapons."

The shops, two of them belonging to the same firm, are supposed to have been closed. Officers on duty had received warning of the robbery. One of the establishments was badly damaged. The loss was estimated at $5,000. A search of the damage was made, but no trace of the robbers was found.

Weather: Narrowcast, a storm at one of the plants was being injured when he rushed to the doorway after seeing two men with a bomb into the building.

Drove Too Fast; Must Write Sentence 3,000 Times, Judge Decides Council Bluffs, Ia.—(P)—Herbert Rosenthal, 16, is under sentence, 3,000 of them, for speeding, a record probably unparalleled in law records.

Charged with driving a car 45 miles an hour on the wrong side of the street Rosenthal was confident when arraigned and told justice Jack Dewitt:

"I can't be sent to jail because of my age and if you fine me my dad will have to pay it."

Justice Dewitt passed him the sentence "delivery boys drive dangerously" with orders to write it 3,000 times and hand the sheets to the Sheriff Saturday morning.

Indict Seven in Alleged Lottery
Of Lodge Groups

Senator James J. Davis, Pennsylvania, Also Faces Charges

New York—(P)—Seven individuals including United States Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania were indicted today charged with participation in alleged lottery and conspiracy.

The others indicted are Bernard C. McGuire, head of the B. C. McGuire Merchandise company of New York; Theodore G. Miller, head of the Moosehead Navigation department, Raymond Walsh, an employee of McGuire, Conrad H. Mann, Kansas City, Frank E. Herzig, publisher of the Eagle's Magazine, and M. J. Revisse, in charge of the package delivery department of the Western Union Telegraph company.

The charges against the defendants were contained in four indictments handed down by the federal grand jury.

The Western Union Telegraph company is also named as a defendant.

The indictments grew out of an investigation of fraternal organization activities involving the Eagles, the Moose and Mystic Shriners among others, concerning the sale of alleged lottery tickets which draw prizes for holders of lucky numbers.

Authorities Find Penny And Nickel Next to Body in Oklahoma

Tulsa, Okla.—(P)—The count found beside the body of J. Earl Smith, 34 year old Tulsa attorney turned the search for his slayer toward gangland today.

Officers said a nickel and a penny found by the body were gangland symbols of the slaying of a person of little importance.

Smith's body was found beside his motor car on a lonely road near the Indian Hills Country club yesterday, six hours after a mysterious telephone call had taken him from his wife and two children.

The attorney had participated in the defense of Harvey Bullock, accused bank robber at Fort Scott, Kas. Bullock, identified as a gangland symbol, was charged with the slaying of Lincoln, (Neb.) National Bank and Trust company, was imprisoned at Lansing yesterday to serve a sentence of 10 to 50 years following conviction of the $100,000 robbery of the Citizens National bank at Fort Scott last June.

Smith's pockets were turned out to give police a clue to the slaying. A press of robbery and a gangland slaying were the only clues left behind by the slayer.

Charged in the slaying was a man who had been freed in a slaying.

Bomb 3 Chicago Shops In Dry Cleaners' War

Chicago—(P)—A bomb and a streak of terror were the result of a "dry cleaners' war" today when three shops were blown to bits by police.

The shops, two of them belonging to the same firm, are supposed to have been closed. Officers on duty had received warning of the robbery. One of the establishments was badly damaged. The loss was estimated at $5,000. A search of the damage was made, but no trace of the robbers was found.

Capt. Lancaster Found Not Guilty In Clarke Death

Jury Acquits British Aviator—Mrs. Keith-Miller Jubilant

Miami, Fla.—(P)—Captain W. N. Lancaster, British aviator acquitted yesterday of murder in the death of his rival in love, Haden Clarke, a young American writer, rested at the home of his attorney today before starting to hunt a job.

He was without definite plans for the future, he said, and declined to discuss what attitude he would adopt toward Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, Australian flying companion whose affections Clarke won from him.

"Please do not ask me about that," he begged questioners who sought to learn if his plans would include the aviator. "I don't know now what answer I would give you."

Lancaster, arrested May 2 on a first degree murder charge, was acquitted yesterday on one complete ballot that followed 4 hours and 58 minutes of debate by a jury made up solely of men. His trial lasted more than two weeks.

Believed Suicide
Young Clarke was found fatally wounded April 21 in the room the two men occupied in Mrs. Keith-Miller's home here only a few hours after Lancaster had returned from a business trip to learn of the couple's new-found love. Lancaster and Mrs. Keith-Miller maintained Clarke shot himself through dependency over finances and his physical condition.

As Lancaster sought to reconstruct a program of work and future routine as the guest of his attorney, James M. Carson today, he faced service of a federal warrant charging him with illegally entering the United States. Mrs. Keith-Miller will appear in special immigration court today to answer a similar charge. Her lawyer, however, said he would ask for a postponement.

"I am delighted at my acquittal," said Lancaster, who said "I knew old Bill would come through."

Report Manhattan Gangster in Seclusion—Death Party Called Off

New York—(P)—A "big shot" Manhattan racketeer was reported to have come into carefully guarded seclusion today as police prepared their case against what they believed to be a far-flung murder syndicate.

After arresting 14 men and charging them with homicide in the ice-plant slaying of John Bazzano of Pittsburgh, police announced that the unnamed racketeer, one of the New York "big shot" bosses, was to be seen soon "on the loose."

Halt Swapping of Aid Supplies for Brew Ingredients

Minot, N. D.—(P)—Home brew and beer relief won't go together in Minot henceforth, the city commission ruled yesterday. Where the former is found the latter will cease.

"I have discovered instances where families have traded flour for home brew ingredients," said A. H. Kuntz, commission head. "The city will not tolerate this sort of thing."

1,500 Special Deputies Await "Zero Hour" At Taylorville

Near Close Of Hearing In Bribe Case

White Charges Defendant Failed to Fulfill "Split" Promise

Eagle River, Wis. — With virtually all of the state's testimony completed, the preliminary hearing for John Dunphy, charged with accepting and distributing bribes in connection with the sale of the Eagle River light plant, was expected to be concluded here today before Court Commissioner Alex F. Higgins.

Richard White, former village trustee, upon whose accusations the charges against Dunphy are based, said under cross examination by Defense Attorney A. J. O'Melia yesterday that he decided to tell authorities of circumstances surrounding the sale when it became apparent that Dunphy had failed to "split fifty-fifty" as was agreed.

White said his desire to "get even" with Dunphy led him to tell County Judge Frank J. Carter of their activities. They went to Madison and interviewed Governor La Follette, who referred them to the attorney general's department.

White said.

Promised Immunity

The witnesses added that Deputy Attorney General Fred Wyle heard his story and assured him of immunity from prosecution if he would tell his version of the affair in court. This statement was partially corroborated later when Judge Carter testified it had been agreed that if White would testify as to the bribe payment the attorney general's department would recommend leniency before the court if White were brought to trial.

White previously had testified that Dunphy, former president of the Eagle River Light and Power commission, paid him $4,000 for using his influence to get the trustees to sell the light plant to the Wisconsin Valley Electric company instead of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, which made the first offer for the property.

White testified James Benson and P. J. Gaffney, who were on the board of trustees with White at the time of the sale in 1923, were also to receive money for supporting the bid of the Wisconsin Electric company, operated by the Byllesby interests. He said each was to receive $800 and told of approaching them with the offer at Dunphy's request. Subsequently Gaffney told him "the money came in handy" although he did not know that payment actually had been made, White said.

Reached Last Spring

The decision to tell Judge Carter of the affair, White continued, was reached last spring when he learned that Dunphy had received $20,000 for his work in arranging the sale of the plant to the Byllesby firm. Dunphy had previously warned of $4,000 too soon or too freely, he said, and it was used in paying debts, remodeling his house and for pleasure trips to Madison, Milwaukee and Chicago.

Attorney O'Melia attempted to show that the sale of the power plant was not due to any influence exerted by White, but to the fact that the Byllesby company, in competitive bidding with the Wisconsin-Michigan firm, had made the best offer to the village. It was disclosed that the Wisconsin Michigan company's bid was $175,000 and that the ultimate sale price was $265,000.

State to Share In Highway Fund

Relief Measure Calls for Improvement of Roads In Forests

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)

Washington — Wisconsin will share with Minnesota and Michigan in an $18,000,000 allotment of the Forest Service's million dollar fund made available for the relief bill for construction and improvement of roads, trails and bridges in national forests.

The division of this sum between the three lake states will be made at the regional headquarters of the Forest Service, that Service announced.

Allocation of the one million dollars provided for the Office of Indian Affairs for improvement, construction and maintenance of Indian reservation roads has not yet been made, but is expected within a week. Wisconsin will probably get some of this money.

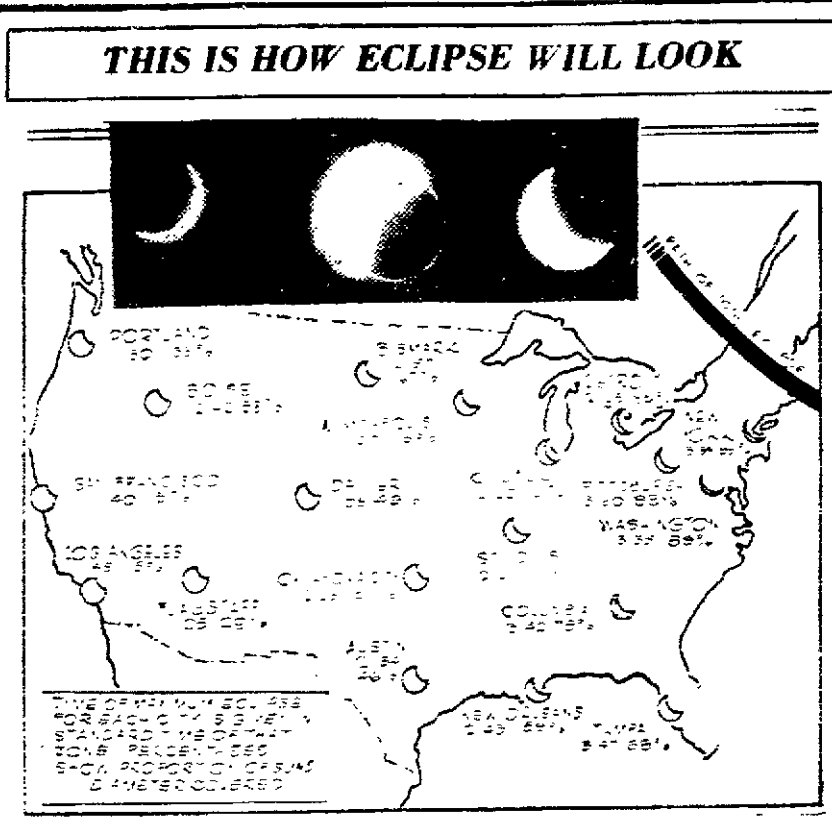

The Badger State, having no national parks or monuments within its borders, does not share in the three million dollars to be allocated by the Park Service under the relief bill.

Fire Chiefs to Meet In City Next Month

Fire chiefs of Wisconsin will meet in Appleton, Sept. 14 and 15 for the fourth annual convention of the Wisconsin State Fire Chiefs association. Local arrangements are being made by George P. McGowan, chief of the Appleton Fire department. George Kuehthau, West Bend, is president of the association. E. E. Gunn, Jr., of the state department of vocational education, will be one of the chief speakers.

GOING TO CHICAGO

Vesper Chamberlain will leave Saturday for Chicago where she will attend the Dancing Masters of America national convention and normal school at the Congress hotel. She will take the examination for membership in the organization Saturday. She expects to be gone about two weeks.

THIS IS HOW ECLIPSE WILL LOOK

The map shows the proportionate amount of the solar eclipse of August 31 to be seen at different American cities. Above are shown different phases of the eclipse of 1930, as seen from Lick observatory in California.

Eclipse Aug. 31 To Provide Show For Whole Nation

Canada and Mexico Also Will See Moon Covering Sun

BY ROBERT H. BAKER, Professor of Astronomy, University of Illinois

Urbana, Ill. — The eclipse of the sun on August 31 will be visible throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. From all parts of North America the dark disk of the moon can be seen on this day crossing in front of the sun.

But the total eclipse can be viewed only along a strip a hundred miles in width, the track of the moon's shadow over the earth's surface.

100 Seconds To Pass

This track begins near the north pole where the shadow strikes the earth at sunrise. It runs southeastward across Hudson Bay, Quebec, New England, and then out into the ocean, where the shadow leaves the earth at sunset.

After traversing the northeast corner of Vermont the center of the shadow will move swiftly past Lancaster and Conway N. H. and will reach the coast about halfway between Portsmouth and Portland. The shadow will arrive in this region about 3:30 p. m., eastern standard time, and will require only a minute and forty seconds to pass over any point on the central line.

Will See Corona

Crowds of people will assemble along the track of the shadow on the afternoon of August 31 to watch the rare spectacle of a total solar eclipse. Totality will last only 100 seconds at any place but if the sky is clear it will be a sight well worth going a long way to see.

During this short interval the moon will hide the sun completely. Day will be turned into night. Stars will come out. The mysterious corona and probably some of the flame-colored prominences surrounding the sun will burst into view.

Preceding this principal feature of the exhibit the partial eclipse can be seen beginning in New England about 2:20 p. m., eastern standard time; and after totality the moon will not withdraw entirely from before the sun's disk until 4:30 p. m.

At the edges of the shadow track, 30 miles from the central line, the total eclipse will last only a moment. The southern edge across New England is a line from the top of Lake Champlain to Salem, Maine. Parallel to it, the northern boundary passes through Boothbay, Maine.

Farther north or south the eclipse will be only partial. The moon will pass across the sun, but not centrally across so that it will not entirely hide the sun. And the fraction of the sun's disk that is eclipsed will be less as the distance from the central line is greater. At Boston 98 per cent will be hidden; at Denver 49 per cent; at Los Angeles 15 per cent.

In watching the partial eclipse the eyes should be protected by a dark glass. For even when only a small crescent of the sun's disk remains uncovered, the light may be too strong to gaze at safely for any length of time.

Electrical Work at Building Completed

All electrical work at the new street department building has been completed, under the direction of Louis Luecke, city electrician. Two weeks were required to wire the building in the heating system, install the wiring for the motors in the machine shop, and wire the new boiler room, mechanical story and pump for unloading gasoline.

Electricians are now working on the transfer of the police and fire alarm system from Appleton's old building to the new one, and on the installation of the stop-and-go traffic light at the corner of Wisconsin-ave and Oneida-st.

Hoover Returns to Job After Fish Expedition

Washington — Returning to work today, President Hoover found his offices bright and shiny with new paint.

Workmen, busy for more than a month repainting the entire White House, seized the opportunity of his brief absence fishing in Chesapeake Bay, to paint the executive offices both inside and out.

Gasoline Sales In District Near Last Year's Mark

250,415 Barrels Sold, Morgan H. Vander Hyden Reports

More than two and one-half million dollars worth of gasoline was purchased in the district including Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, Kaukauna, Seymour, Black Creek, Shiocton, Center Valley, Greenville, and vicinities in Outagamie-co during the fiscal year ending Aug. 1, 1932, according to figures compiled by Morgan H. Vander Hyden, Vander Hyden, Menasha, state oil inspector for the nineteenth district.

During the 12 months period, Vander Hyden's records reveal that 250,415 barrels of gasoline, 50 gallons to the barrel, were sold, a decrease of only 465 barrels from the corresponding period ending Aug. 1, 1931, when the total was 250,880. The quantity of gasoline sold would be enough to carry an automobile averaging 15 miles to the gallon 62,093,750 miles.

The total cost of the gasoline, including all grades sold at regular stations, was reached by averaging the expenditure at 20 cents per gallon. Through the four cent tax, motorists who purchased gasoline in the district during the past 12 months contributed $500,830 to the state.

Sales by Month

The monthly sale of gasoline, by barrels, for the past 24 months is as follows:

Month	1930	1931
August	23,815	27,681
September	23,680	20,732
October	22,175	26,224
November	20,763	19,747
December	16,154	16,600

Month	1931	1932
January	17,839	17,299
February	13,518	12,881
March	14,854	18,954
April	23,904	22,314
May	22,416	20,326
June	26,912	17,981

County Board to Hold Summer Meet Here Next Tuesday

Plans for the summer meeting of the Outagamie-co board next Tuesday at the courthouse are being completed by John E. Hantschel, county clerk. A review of highway work already completed and of work planned will be presented by the county highway committee. It is for the purpose of considering these reports that these summer meetings were inaugurated. The board also will consider other reports.

Roosevelt to Give Talk in Wisconsin

Address at Milwaukee Auditorium Scheduled for Sept. 30

Milwaukee — Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York will make at least one speech in Wisconsin, and possibly two, during an 8,000 mile campaign tour through 21 states. It was learned here today.

The Democratic candidate for president will appear at the Milwaukee auditorium, Sept. 30. An effort is being made to get the governor to speak at Horicon that afternoon at a meeting of conservationists. C. E. Broughton, Sheboygan, Democratic national committeeman said following the announcement of the itinerary.

The Roosevelt itinerary tentatively calls for these stops: Topeka, Kans., Sept. 14; Denver, Sept. 15; Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 16; Salt Lake City, Sept. 17 and 18; Butte, Mont., Sept. 19; Seattle, Sept. 20; Portland, Ore., Sept. 21; San Francisco, Sept. 23; Los Angeles, Sept. 24; San Diego, Sept. 25; Williams, Ariz., Sept. 26; Albuquerque, N. Mex., Sept. 27; Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 29; Milwaukee, Sept. 30; Chicago, Oct. 1; Detroit, Oct. 2 and Buffalo, Oct. 3.

States which will be touched on the trip but in which no stops are scheduled are Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Texas and Oklahoma. The governor will speak in some of them later in the campaign.

It Is Said--

That Appleton is afflicted with a scourge of Mexican jumping beans that is threatening to disrupt all kinds of serious gatherings. The antics of the beans amuses young and old alike, and long are the hours of speculation on what makes them jump and wiggle. This said some of the city fathers know the secret, but they won't tell.

That for the first time in many years it is possible to stand at the corner of College-ave and Oneida-st and look north and see the traffic passing on Wisconsin-ave. This is possible because the city crews have trimmed the trees on Oneida-st. Previously the low-hanging limbs made it impossible to see along Oneida-st for more than a few blocks.

That Wednesday's sudden downpour taught W. S. Ryan, physical director at the Y. M. C. A. to remember where he puts his car keys, especially in case of rain. When he was ready to go home yesterday afternoon he called his family to come for him with the car, but when the family was unable to find the keys, Mr. Ryan discovered that they were safely with him in his coat pocket.

Council Stumped Over Ownership of Old Alley

When an alley decides to get into the legal spotlight, it goes in for it in a big way. The common council discovered at its meeting Wednesday night. Just an ordinary back-yard alley threw the council into such a hubbub of legal technicalities that they finally dumped the whole thing in the lap of the city attorney and left him to figure it out.

The question of the ownership of the alley in Block 57, Third ward, between College-ave and Lawrence-st, running from Spruce to Mason-sts, brought in its trail an endless line of problems. The alley, open to the public for the past 24 years, has been closed since the sale of a section of property involving the alley. Nine property owners filed a petition with the council asking that the alley be left open as a public thoroughfare.

A few of the questions the attorney was asked were: Who paid the taxes in the last 24 years? Has the city a deed to the alley property? Do the deeds of property adjoining the alley refer to an alley? Has the alley been closed at any time during the past 24 years, or has it reverted to the city through adverse possession? Does the blockaded alley constitute a fire hazard? Is it necessary to keep a light on the blockade, to warn persons who have used the alley steadily in the last 24 years? Who paid for the upkeep of the alley in the past? Does the fact that the city gave a property owner a permit to move a garage to front on the alley involve the city? Could the city call for an injunction against closing the alley? After all, where is the burden of proof, with the property owner or with the city? And so on and so on.

Minister Seeks Freedom on Writ

Continue Hearing in Slaying of First Mrs. S. A. Berrie

Muskogee, Okla. — Accused of the murder of his first wife and seeking freedom on a habeas corpus writ, the Rev. S. A. Berrie told a special prosecutor at the hearing that the first Mrs. Berrie had objected to the coming to their home of Miss Ida Bess Bright, now the minister's wife.

But in a grueling cross examination by James Babb, the prosecutor, the 52-year-old hymn writing minister denied yesterday he had a clandestine love affair with the pretty, 19-year-old Bright, whom he married last May 17, less than two months after the sudden death of the first Mrs. Berrie. He also denied he had penned amorous verse to the girl Sunday school teacher before Mrs. Berrie's death.

The state contends that Berrie and his girl bride, who operated as a "victim of circumstances," admitted the alleged clandestine love affair and love lyrics came before March 21, when Mrs. Berrie died shortly after taking a capsule, presumably containing a headache powder. The hearing continues today.

Berrie, held in jail since his arrest two weeks ago after exhumation of his first wife's body resulted in discovery of poison "sufficient to kill," insists he is held without authority because proof of the crime "has not been given."

The pastor, who sold his tabernacle to provide defense funds, did not answer questions by Babb as to how he justified giving his age in his application for the second marriage license as 32 when he admitted on the stand he was 52, and if he thought meeting the girl in rooming houses was "conduct becoming a father and gentleman," as you claim you were toward this girl.

U. S. Bureau Sends Shipment of Fish For County Waters

A shipment of catfish and yellow perch, rescued from the Mississippi river, will be received here tonight by the Outagamie Fish and Game Protective association. R. J. Meyer is chairman of the committee which will take charge of the fish on their arrival here and of planting them in Bear creek in the town of Ellington game reserve and in other waters in the western part of the county. The fish are being received from the federal fish bureau at LaCrosse.

Asks League for Aid In Manchurian Flood

Harbin, Manchuria — United States Consul General George C. Hanson applied today to the League of Nations for immediate assistance for more than 1,000,000 sufferers from the floods which have wrecked large areas of Manchuria during the last few days. His appeal was made in behalf of the International Relief committee.

Business was still paralyzed by the flood waters today.

There were more than 400 cases of cholera in the Harbin today and 150 have died thus far with the disease which also is rampant through China.

The flooded area is littered with dead bodies of people, horses, dogs, cats and chickens, constituting a grave menace to health.

Man Admits Series of Purse Thefts in Church

St. Paul — Ten days had passed since Detective Harry O'Keefe began his watch in a local church. Someone had been stealing from the purses of worshippers.

Yesterday, while a woman prayed for money, he saw a man rummage for money. He said he was Edwin Salmon, 52, and confessed, police said, to a number of similar thefts in the church.

When Feet Burn Ache and Itch

Here's What to Do

After washing your feet tonight, give them a thorough rubbing with Peter's Ointment — the mighty healing and soothing power of this great formula will take out the burning and aching before morning and you'll have sturdy feet free from soreness.

Another thing, if you are tortured with itching toes, with peeling skin and small watery pustules, this grand ointment will bring blessed relief right away — all itching ceases and after a few applications the itchy, distressed toes will be as good as new again.

Druggists will be glad to tell you that there is nothing better on earth for eczema, old sores, itching skin, pimples, rash, chafing — one 35 cent box will prove it. Adv.

Public Is Urged To See 4-H Club Exhibits at Fair

Boys and Girls Will Show Work at Seymour On Saturday

The general public is being urged by Miss Harriet Thompson, county home demonstration agent, and Gustav A. Sell, agricultural agent, to see the exhibits and demonstrations staged by the 4-H club members at the Seymour fair, which opens tomorrow for three days. Eight or nine clubs have arranged for exhibition booths at the fair.

Saturday is to be 4-H club day. The program for the boys and girls will open at 9 o'clock in the morning with the exhibition and judging of calves. At 9:30 Misses Marjorie Strickland and Joyce Tubbs of the Woodland club, town of Seymour, will give a demonstration of the canning of fruit juices. This will be followed at 10 o'clock by a demonstration on the use of sewing machine attachments by Misses Caroline Wolf and Grace Blanshan of the same club.

About 10 girls will take part at 11 o'clock in the style show. The girls will wear outfits which they made themselves during the last year.

At 1 o'clock all the 4-H club members will stage a parade, meeting at the Falk hotel and marching to the fair grounds. The parade will be led by the Seymour high school band. On reaching the fair grounds the members will take their calves with them to march past the grand stand.

Following the parade Misses Evelyn Hill and Marion Vanden Heuvel of the Pine Grove club, town of Oneida, will demonstrate at 2 o'clock the making of a dress protector. At 2:30 Misses Virginia Burns and Marie Borsche of the Hortenville Sewing club, will demonstrate collar and cuff sets, and at 3 o'clock Misses Lucille Gabriel and Lucille Stern of the Cooks Pantry club of Hortenville will demonstrate the making of 4-H club muffins.

Other officers chosen by the Pythian sisters were: Gertrude Lewis, Marshfield, grand senior; Clara Ehle, Stoughton, grand junior; Lottie Schmidt, Appleton, grand manager; Evelyn Dusold, Milwaukee, master of records and seals; Emma Gehlhaar, Ashland, mistress of finance, and Nellie Reed, Madison, protector.

Refuse to Furnish Horses for Police Officers at Capital

Washington — Washington policemen will have to continue meeting along without prancing horses on which to ride their beats.

And it was a retired chief of the U. S. cavalry, Major General Herbert B. Crosby, who as one of the District of Columbia commissioners, turned down the proposal that mounted police be returned to the capital.

"Too many automobiles," was in effect, the ruling in which the other commissioners concurred.

Arrest Three Badger Men on Dry Law Charge

New Hampton, Iowa — Three Wisconsin men were arrested here yesterday by officers who confiscated two ten gallon kegs of moonshine whiskey they said they found in their car. The officers claimed the trio had been soliciting business among farmers near here. The men are Sigmund Skallinska, 30, and John Murdock, 23, both of Neillsville, and Jess Ellington, 30, Milwaukee.

Level of Mississippi River Nears Low Mark

St. Paul — The Mississippi river in Minnesota soon may reach a new all-time low water mark.

Army engineers here said today the level, below a year ago, is being helped some by water drained from northern Minnesota reservoir lakes.

River navigation has not been hampered.

Wife Was Fat No Longer Attractive

Lost Husband's Love

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper of April 4 in connection with a divorce trial that has attracted wide attention.

"She was a beautiful woman," one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do.

If you are fat, how would you like to lose it and at the same time gain in physical charm and acquire a clean, clear skin and eyes that sparkle with buoyant health?

And gain in energy and activity? Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for 20 days. You can help the action of Kruschen by cutting down on pastry and fatty meats and going light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

Kruschen Salts are a blend of 6 mineral salts most helpful to body health. Best of all, a bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last you for 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Ask any druggist for a bottle and start to lose fat today.

It's the safe way to reduce but be sure you get Kruschen — your health comes first and remember this if you are not joyfully satisfied with results — money back. Adv.

1933 Paving Program Gets Council's O. K.

Projects on 58 Streets Depend Upon $750,000
R. F. C. Loan

The 1933 paving program, based on the availability of a loan of $750,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, was adopted by the common council at its meeting at city hall Wednesday evening. The original list of 85 streets, prepared by the street and bridge committee a week ago, was boiled down to 58 streets and parts of streets at a second meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The list includes: Alton-st., Alton-st., Union to Alton-st., Appleton-st., Wisconsin-ave to city limits, Atlantic-st., Richmond to Tonka, Bauger-ave, College to Wisconsin, Bellaire-st., Bennett-st., College to Wisconsin, Bourne-st., Verbeek to Seymour, Circle-st., Richmond to Meade, Circle-st., Morrison to Meade, Circle-st., Commercial to Parkway, and Superior to Union College-ave, Outagamie to Lincoln, N. Division-st., Atlantic to Parkway, Douglas-st., College to Second, Drew-st., Pacific to city limits, Durkee-st., Chicago and Northwestern railroad tracks to Roosevelt, Fairview-pl., Prospect to railroad tracks, Fifth-st., Story to Walnut, Fourth-st., Mason to Memorial, Fremont-st., S. Oneida to Kernan, Harris-st., Richmond to Bauger, Jackson-st., South River to end of sewer, Kernan-ave, South River to Fremont, Lawrence-st., N. Island to South River, Lawrence-st., Walnut to Badger, Lawrence-st., Morrison to Drew, and at the Lawrence-st. bridge hill, Lincoln-st., S. Oneida to Lawe, Locust-st., Prospect to College.

Mason-st. Included
Mason-st., College to Wisconsin, and Prospect to Cedar; McKinley-st., S. Oneida to Lawe, Meade-st., Pacific to city limits; Morrison-st., Hancock to city limits; Nevada-st., Levan-ave to the west end of the street; Oklahoma-st., Richmond to Mason; Oneida-st., Wisconsin-ave to city limits; Outagamie-st., Prospect to Cedar; Packard-st., State to Mason; Parkway-bld., Morrison to Richmond; Pierce-ave, Fourth to College; Pine-st., Prospect to Mason; Ravinia-pl., Second-st., Mason to Bounds; Seymour-st., Memorial to Oneida; South-st., Meade to Rankin; South River-st., Oneida to Lawe; Spencer-st., Badger to city limits; State-st., College to Prospect; Story-st., Prospect to Packard; Superior-st., Atlantic to Parkway; Telulah-ave, Newberry to John, Tonka-st., Pacific to Atlantic; Union-st., Wisconsin to Roosevelt; Winnebago, N. Division to Badger; and Weimar-st., Newberry to E. John. It was suggested that State-st. be finished with back top.

Seek Truck Bids
Objection was made to the recommendation of the street and bridge committee that bids be solicited for a 3 1/2-ton or 4-ton truck for the street department with the result that the clerk will advertise for trucks ranging from 2 1/2 to 4-ton capacity. The chairman of the street and bridge committee, W. H. Greiner, stated that at the present time practically all of the city trucks are 50 per cent overloaded, and that a larger truck is needed. Alderman Mike Steinhauser objected to purchasing such a large truck for summer use, just so it could be used occasionally during the winter for snow removal. The engineer was instructed to ask the sewers on streets to be laid next year and report to the council, and the clerk was asked to advertise for bids on sewer stubs, to notify the water and gas companies to install service lines on streets included in the 1933 paving program. The price committee was ordered to secure prices on aluminum lead in 100-pound or barrel lots, and on red lead to be used for painting the siding on bridges. The street and bridge committee was given power to make arrangements for sand-blasting equipment to be used in painting bridges.

Make Plans for Meet of Teachers

135 Rural School Mentors To Gather Here Aug. 25 and 26

Preliminary arrangements are being made by A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, for the annual rural school teachers' institute at the courthouse Thursday and Friday, Aug. 25 and 26. This meeting precedes the opening of the county's rural schools and 125 teachers are expected to attend.

Mr. Meating has arranged for several speakers to address the teachers. There also will be conferences on methods of procedure for the teachers. Speakers already engaged for the institute include: Tillie R. Schlumberger, a graduate of Columbia university, Chicago, who will discuss Modern Methods in Reading; A. L. Landis, Chicago, who will discuss Art in Rural and Graded Schools; and Miss Loraine Brong of the child health department of the Wisconsin Anti Tuberculosis association, who will discuss School Health Program.

Fund Available for Transporting Children

Transportation for crippled children attending Appleton Orthopedic school will be paid by state funds as usual, according to Margaret Lison Ingram, Madison director of the crippled children's division of the state educational department. Word was received from her today by a member of the board of education.

It was announced earlier in the month that state aid for transportation has been discontinued this year by the state department, but the letter sent to all boards of education in the state referred not to special schools for crippled but to regular public schools.

"The transportation question affected only those crippled children in regular public schools," Mrs. Ingram stated. "The program for special schools will be carried out under the usual policy as before."

Life Saving Tips Given Swimmers

10 Boys Take Lessons Three Times Weekly At Y. M. C. A. Pool

Swimming just for fun is the last thought of the 10 boys who splash in the Y. M. C. A. pool three times a week under the direction of W. S. Ryan, in charge of the second Junior Life saving class this summer.

From the moment they go into the pool in a log cave from the springboard they begin to work steadily for one hour, learning how to be junior life savers. They practice in pairs, one boy being the victim and the second boy the life saver to practice the various holds and breaks and carries that are necessary to become a full fledged life saver.

One of the important parts of the test is to be able to swim 30 yards completely covered and also to be able to tread water in deep water. The boys are being taught how to break front and side stroke holds, when a drowning person is in a swimmer's grasp, how to tow a person to shore, how to roll a person over on their back, how to carry a person in an arm lock, and how to carry a tired swimmer's carry. The Schrader method of resuscitation is taught also.

Before a boy can enter a life saving class at the Y. M. C. A. he must qualify as a swimmer, be able to Prepare Details of Y. M. C. A. Member Drive

Preparations and details for the annual membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A., scheduled for the week of Oct. 3, will be underway by Sept. 1. Committees, workers and details of the entire campaign will be selected.

Committees, workers and membership teams will be organized during the month of September and the details of the entire campaign program will be worked out. G. E. Bauger is the chairman of the campaign this year with Adam Ryan as the vice chairman.

The proposed goal of the campaign is to gain 1200 members in the men and boys departments.

Good Gasolene must pass this test to prove that it's non-corrosive

Next time you fill your gas tank—remember this: All crude oil contains sulphur, and if this gets into the gasolene, it may be burned and transformed into sulphuric acid forming compounds. Sulphuric acid is highly corrosive. It attacks all metal, and even in cold dilute solution eats deeply into zinc and steel.

To make absolutely sure that the gasolene you buy from Cities Service is non-corrosive, Cities Service chemists put every day's run of gasolene through the exacting copper strip test pictured above. They put a copper strip into a sample test tube of gasolene and boil and maintain it at 122° F. for 3 hours. They then remove the strip—and if it shows more than the slightest discoloration or corrosion, that particular batch of gasolene is rejected, and cannot be offered for sale.

This is but one of 22 rigid tests that enable us to say—"If it's Cities Service—it has to be good!"

Horse Pulling Contest At Winnebago-co Fair

A horse pulling contest will be one of the special features of the Winnebago County Fair, to be held in Oshkosh Sept. 20 to 23. The contest will start at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, Sept. 20 near the grand stand.

Among the other events of the contest there will be attempts to lift 2,000 pounds straight up out of a well, to pull four 14-inch plows six inches deep in clay loam, and to start a wagon load of 20,000 pounds on concrete pavement. The fair will be featured by outstanding attractions, exhibits of all kinds, and beautiful fireworks displays.

Take Steps to Fix Districts For Apartments

Resolution Recommending Ordinance Amendment Adopted

First steps toward establishment of apartment house districts in Appleton were taken by the common council Wednesday evening when a resolution introduced by C. D. Thompson, second ward alderman, was adopted. The resolution recommends an amendment to the zoning ordinance providing for apartment house districts, so that in the future apartment houses can be built without a special permit.

Mr. Thompson pointed out that under present conditions it is almost impossible to construct apartment houses in this city, as the ordinance requires that a three-fourths vote of the council is necessary to override objections of adjoining property holders. He advised the selection of districts, so that in the future promoters could select a site and be assured of permission to build at that location. He suggested that the ordinance committee confer with real estate men in the selection of the districts.

Won't Move Wall

The retaining wall near the Toy company hill will remain at its present location, the council decided. Alderman Thompson argued that the city had made the mistake in establishing the wall too close to the railroad tracks and that it was up to the city to correct it. Alderman Philipp Vogt countered with the argument that the wall is on city, not railroad property, and that moving the wall would spoil the width of the street. He contended that cars can be switched at this point without difficulty, and Mr. Thompson answered that though there might be clearance for the switchmen naturally the Toy company was not going to violate a railroad company law when the railroad has specified that there is not sufficient clearance. Alderman R. F. McGilgan suggested that a "No Clearance" sign be posted and the wall remain where it is. The vote on the question was 10 to 2, Alderman Thompson and W. H. Gmeiner casting negative votes.

Five Milk Bids

Five bids for delivering milk to indigent families were presented by the price committee, with the recommendation that the contract be divided equally between common council delivered pasteurized milk. Three companies the Appleton Pure Milk, Fairmont Creamery and Okauchie Milk and Produce, offered pasteurized milk at six cents a quart, the Riverside Dairy bid was six cents for raw milk, and the North Kress Dairy offer was five cents for raw milk.

The council voted to ask the water department to waive charges on bacteria tests made on milk and cream delivered in Appleton, and in the event that this is granted, to amend the milk ordinance so that in the future the dealer whose product requires a check pay $1 to the water department for the checking. At the present time the city pays the water department $1 per test, which during a year amounts to $12 per dealer, without counting rechecks, as one milk test is made each month. Inasmuch as the milk dealer license fee is only $5, the testing of milk is an expensive item for the city. Mayor John Goodland, Jr., said that the board of health felt that the water department should cooperate with the city in cutting down this expense, and Richard Groth, deputy health officer, pointed out that forcing the dealer to pay for the recheck might result in more caution on the part of the dealers.

Ask Waiving Of Fee

A petition from the junk dealers of the city asking that in view of the present condition of the junk market, the $10 license fee for junk dealers be waived this year, was referred to the police and license committee, with the admonition that the approval of this request would bring legal petitions from all licensed businesses that are in financial difficulties.

A request from nearby property owners that the section of Seventh-st and Memorial-ave closed to the public for playground purposes for St. Mary school children be reopened, was turned over to the street and bridge committee.

Volunteers of America was raised permission to conduct its Annual Harvest Tag day in Appleton. The fire chief was instructed to order the fire engine company to remove a billboard from Boulevard. Several property owners have protested against the presence of the sign. The assessments for the sewer on N. Morrison-st, between Pacific and Atlantic-sts, were confirmed, and a report from George Gauslin, plumbing inspector, on the sewer conditions at the Methodist and First English Lutheran churches, was read. Mr. Gauslin suggested that the installation of cut-offs, so excess water would drain on the ground instead of into the sewer, would eliminate the backwater condition in the basements of both churches.

Letter Is Read

A letter from Philipp Vogt, chairman of the water committee, to the Wisconsin Public Service commission, explaining the refusal by the city of water service to George Meyers, was read. The letter pointed out that in order to supply service to the Meyers home it would be necessary to run a water main through three vacant blocks, and that Mr. Meyers had made no offer to meet the expense of such a venture.

The request for oil on E. Lincoln-st, Jackson-st to Lawe-st, was referred to the street and bridge committee.

Von Papen Warns Against Uprising

German Forces Will be Used to Combat Storm Troops, Hitler Told

Berlin—(P)—A warning that the German army would be used promptly to block any attempt by Adolf Hitler to use his national socialist storm troops to seize the government was made by Hitler today from Chancellor Franz von Papen.

The chancellor added he expected his government to remain in power "a long time."

The warning was given in an interview last night in which Von Papen reiterated Germany's demand for equality in armaments with other nations, declaring the fatherland no longer could submit to being treated as a second class power.

With reference to Hitler and the storm troops, he said he had received assurances from the Nazi leader the troops would not be used for any attempt at a coup d'etat.

Appearing thoroughly confident of the future for his cabinet, he said there would be no attempt to avoid the vote of the Reichstag, in which Hitler's Nazis have the greatest block of seats. He believed, he said, an appeal to the common sense of the parties would be successful, because there is no government to replace the present one.

Even if the Reichstag voted non-confidence, he added, the government has every intention of respecting the constitution, but would govern its action according to the situation when it arose.

The chancellor was non-committal on whether Germany would leave the League of Nations if her claim for equality in armament were not recognized.

"Germany has no desire nor intention to arm," he said, "but she does want other nations to keep their promises to disarm."

The German people, he added, are now united more closely than ever behind "their supreme leader," the field marshal (Von Hindenburg) and are full of confidence in his wise leadership.

Huber Criticizes Utility Finances

Cites Recent Collapse of Insull Company as Example

Rhineland—(P)—Lieut. Gov. Henry A. Huber criticized the financial structure of privately owned public utilities in Wisconsin in a campaign speech here today.

"Holding companies have been piled on top of holding companies, in some instances six deep," he said. "Each successive holding company has financed itself by bonds sold to the general public and the total bond issues in many instances far exceed any reasonable value of the operating properties on which they are based."

The recent collapse of the Insull companies has revealed the evils and dangers of this holding company control of utilities in its true light.

Road Contract Will be Discussed at Meeting

Members of the county highway committee were to hold a special meeting at the courthouse this afternoon to discuss plans for awarding a contract to furnish crushed stone for the improvement of a section of Highway 84 between Saxon and Seymour. The Diekmann Construction company of Kiel was the low bidder on this job with a price of about $2,000 and word received at the highway office this morning said that the firm had qualified for the job. About 13 miles of this road is being improved with a black top surface.

ferred to the street and bridge committee with power to act, the petition for a light on the corner of Pierce-ave and Front-st went to the street lighting committee, and the purchase of tires for the fire department to the price committee.

Lots 7 to 12, Block 72, First Ward, plat were placed in the heavy manufacturing district, and action was deferred on the request to put lot 17, Block 12 A, Bell Heights addition, into the local business district. The dog claim of L. J. Strutz for $25 was disallowed.

The council adjourned until next Wednesday when bids on the installation of an ornamental lighting system on N. Appleton and N. Superior-sts will be considered.

4 Grand Lodge Elks to Visit In Appleton

Plan to Attend State Association Convention Here Next Week

Four grand lodge officers of the Elks will attend the annual state Elks convention here Aug. 25, 26 and 27.

The ranking officer will be Floyd Thompson, Moline, Ill. grand exalted, ruler, nationally known for bar and political activities in Illinois and a former justice of the Illinois supreme court. He will speak to exalted rulers and secretaries of state lodges Friday noon and at the annual banquet Friday evening.

Other grand lodge officers are J. E. Masters, Chicago, secretary of the grand lodge; Lloyd Maxwell, a grand lodge trustee from Iowa; and Charles E. Broughton, Sheboygan, grand exalted leading knight. Edward Mackie, Manitowish, a former state association president, is expected back from Europe in time to attend the convention.

Opens Next Thursday

The convention will open Thursday, Aug. 25, with registration and the first business sessions. Registration will continue on Friday, which day also will feature the big Elks golf tournament. There will be a sweepstakes tournament with home club handicaps allowed, and a team event. The latter event is attracting much attention as this is the first year it has been attempted. Numerous state clubs have written for information concerning the event and are rounding up their five best golfers as a team.

The annual banquet will be held Friday evening at the lodge rooms with the grand exalted ruler as speaker.

Saturday will see the last of the business sessions, the annual parade which is one of the outstanding features of all conventions and the annual band contest at Erb park.

Helble Named to Legion Office

Appleton Commander Now Heads Ninth District Legionnaires

Herbert H. Helble, commander of Oney Johnston post of the American legion, was named commander of the ninth district at the annual convention of the state department of the legion at LaCrosse in closing sessions yesterday. He succeeds Arthur Schmalz, Kaukauna, who has been named vice commander of the state department.

Armin B. Scheuple, Appleton, was elected a state delegate to the national convention at Portland, Ore., in September. No other Appleton veterans were elected to any offices and no honors awarded the post except that it was recognized as the largest in the state.

The Appleton delegation to the convention comprised approximately 17 persons and included delegates to the legion meeting and the meeting of auxiliary units to the posts.

Mercury Drops After Two Local Showers

Two local showers which brought a change in the wind to the northwest and a resultant drop in the temperature yesterday made Appleton and the vicinity mindful of the fact that fall is not so far away. The abrupt change in the temperatures came yesterday afternoon and evening after the city had been swept with a depressing heat wave.

The sudden drop of the mercury was noticeable this morning because of the heat yesterday. However, there was a 20 degree change in temperature that probably would have been noticed under any condition. The low temperature last night was 54 degrees and the high at noon today was 65 degrees.

Forecasts for tomorrow are for what warmer in the west and north central portions of the state. The fresh northwest winds will diminish.

Reduced Rates Not in Effect on Car Permits

The auto license division at Madison is receiving many applications from motorists who hope to get their licenses at reduced rates because it is after July 1. The last session of the legislature, however, passed a law which provides that there shall be no reduction in price at any time during the year except for new cars. The applications containing insufficient funds are being mailed back to the senders with an explanation of the change in law.

Go to Outdoor Meeting Of Furniture Dealers

Three Appleton members of the Fox River Valley Retail Furniture Dealers association attended the joint outdoor meeting Monday at Saxon-ave of the Fox River Valley Furniture Manufacturers association. They were August Trethorn, Harvey Kinner and Frank Hoch.

The picnic was held at Lake View Shooting park with a program and athletic events during the afternoon and evening. L. L. Smith of Kohler company delivered an address on taxation.

First Coal Shipment For Appleton Schools

The first shipment of coal is being delivered this week at Appleton schools. Truckloads are being taken to Appleton high school, Jefferson, Lincoln, Columbus and McKinley schools. Joseph Hodgins, city sealer, and William Egan, superintendent of public school buildings, are checking on the weight of the various loads.

Sentence 3rd Man In Dells Slaying

Grippando Draws 15 to 25 Year Term in Prison At Waupun

Friendship, Wis.—(P)—James Grippando was found guilty of second degree murder by a jury in circuit court here today and was immediately sentenced to serve from 14 to 25 years in Waupun penitentiary.

Grippando was convicted of participating in the fatal shooting of Ole Hansen, Wisconsin Dells resort owner, during an attempted hold-up on the night of Aug. 7. Judge Clayton F. Van Pelt gave him the same sentence he accorded his two accomplices, George Harper and John Paul White, who pleaded guilty last week to second degree murder.

District Attorney Ross Bennett of Columbia-co who prosecuted the case, brought here on a change of venue, asked a verdict of first degree murder. Vincent McNamara, defense attorney, argued his client was guilty of no more serious crime than third degree murder.

Only two witnesses, in addition to the defendant, were called by the defense. Grippando's wife and mother testified to his character, declaring that he had always been good to them and his three children. They admitted he was away at the time of the slaying and had told them he was going on a fishing trip.

The state accused Grippando of taking part in the hold-up with three other men and a woman. Two accomplices, George Harper and John Paul White, have been sentenced on second degree murder charges. Mrs. Irene Smith Flanagan is held by Kansas city authorities, and James Riley, fifth member of the gang, is still sought.

Witnesses testified both Grippando and Riley shot at Hansen when he resisted the holdup.

British Flier Starts Transatlantic Solo

Portmarnock, Irish Free State—(P)—A. J. Mollison, noted British distance flier, took off from here at 11:35 a. m. (5:35 a. m. eastern standard time) on a Transatlantic flight to the United States.

He planned to make his first stop at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, and after refueling to dash on immediately to Roosevelt field, Long Island. Then his schedule called for a quick turnaround and a dash back again this time without a stop to Crofton, England.

If Mollison succeeds it will be the first Transatlantic solo flight from east to west and the first North Atlantic crossing in a light airplane.

Police Look for Car Stolen From Street

Police this morning were looking for a Buick roadster, owned by Harold Webb, 624 W. Packard-st, which was stolen between 7 o'clock and 9:45 last night from a parking place on W. Franklin-st. The car has the license number 283910. Motor number, 1317203; and serial number, 180099.

Building Permits

Two building permits were issued Wednesday by John N. West, building inspector. They were granted to Elmer Jennerahn, 621 S. Douglas-ave, addition to residence and remodel, cost $200; and Mike Gabriel, 1121 W. Okalamoca-st, residence, cost $2,000.

25 At Mixed Swim

Twenty-five attended a mixed swim at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night, making a total of 100 who have attended so far this summer. The swim is a new feature this year on the Y. M. C. A. recreation program. It is held every week for members and their guests.

Youth Unconscious 24 Hours After He Fractures His Skull

Clarence Wickesberg, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Wickesberg, W. Wisconsin-ave had not regained consciousness at 1 o'clock this afternoon at St. Vincent hospital at Green Bay after 24 hours after an accident in which his skull was fractured. Attending physicians said his condition is extremely critical and they hold little hope for his recovery.

Wickesberg was injured when he fell about 20 feet while working at the new St. Hubert church under construction at Revere, located on the Door-Kewaunee-co line about four miles north of Brussels. Wickesberg was on a pole, which was being used in arch construction, when a guy wire gave way and he fell. In falling his head struck on a concrete block.

Youth Captured After Escape From County Jail Here

Undersheriff Edward Lutz Returns Morris Schomisch From Sturgeon Bay

Morris Schomisch, 17, Oshkosh, who "walked" out of the Outagamie-co jail here on Saturday, July 30, was recaptured last night at Sturgeon Bay by police there. Edward Lutz, undersheriff, went to Sturgeon Bay and brought him back to this city. Schomisch is being held here pending the arrival of authorities to take him back to the Industrial School for Boys at Waukesha, from which institution he is on parole.

When Schomisch escaped from jail here, during the absence of Sheriff John Lappen, a statewide search was started for him. Close watch was kept on the home of relatives of the youth at Sturgeon Bay and Oshkosh and it was while attempting to visit these relatives at Sturgeon Bay that he was arrested.

The youth, with William Dawson, 19, Oshkosh, were arrested here last month on charges of larceny of a car. The youths were arrested by Officers Joseph Rankin and George Behrendt. Early in the morning they were seen trying to start a car they had pushed from the yard of George Puth, 625 W. Lawrence-st. They fled, but were caught later. Dawson pleaded guilty of the charge against him and was sentenced to a year in the state reformatory at Green Bay, where he is now serving the term. Schomisch was being held for authorities at Waukesha when he escaped.

Defer Hearing on Dry Law Charges

Little Chute Men to Appear Before Court Commissioner Aug. 25

Hearing on charges of possession of illicit liquor, against John G. Hammen, Little Chute, operator of the Hammen hotel, and John Hammen, Little Chute, his uncle, were continued by John F. Watermolen, United States court commissioner, at Green Bay this morning until Aug. 25. The delay was granted at the request of the government. The two men are out on bonds of $500 each. The hotel was raided several weeks ago and agents found a quantity of alleged whisky, beer and gin.

John Calhoun and Myron Spry, Green Bay, arrested in a raid by federal agents on a soft drink parlor in Green Bay last night, were arraigned before Commissioner Watermolen this morning and pleaded not guilty to charges of possession of liquor. Hearing of the cases was set for Aug. 22 and the two men are being held in the Brown-co jail in default of bond of $500 each.

Matt Liebergen, DePere, and Charles Sramek, Oak Grove, on Highway 57 north of Plymouth, whose places also were raided yesterday, were to be arraigned this afternoon.

Valley Scouts Make Crystal River Trip

Twelve scouts, members of Valley council, now encamped on Onaway Island, Wisconsin Veterans' Home, made the Crystal river trip the other day, according to word received from camp. Charles Wideman and Bob Wichmann were the leaders. Plans were to camp out all night but weather conditions forced a change.

Several visitors have made their appearance at the camp, among them being Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kiloren and Mrs. M. G. Clark of Appleton.

Fifteen boys have been taking riding lessons, five each day. The boys leave early every morning and spend the period wandering around the country side. So far only one yellow is reported to have pulled a "Prince of Wales." One of the camp leaders has charge of the group while it is out.

Press Relief Work in Oklahoma Flood Areas

City Spends Total Of 79 Cents to Get Rid of 11 Indigents

Enid, Okla.—(P)—Relief work in northwestern Oklahoma was pressed today as floods receded, leaving four unknown dead, several missing, hundreds homeless, rail and highway traffic disrupted, and damage estimated as high as $2,000,000.

At Cherokee, which bore the brunt of the deluge, two were dead and more than 300 were homeless. Bert Dillon, 35, father of W. A. Dillon, Alfalfa-co attorney, and Mrs. Sam Cellan, 60, were drowned.

The bodies of Mrs. Maggie McFarland and an unidentified boy, who drowned in the rampaging Boggy Creek near Enid, were not recovered.

Overflows from the Skeleton river north of Guthrie drove 75 families from rural homes and interrupted highway and rail traffic. The U. S. Highway No. 77 bridge across the river was partly washed out and the Santa Fe railroad's bridge was under water.

About Enid business houses were flooded and damage to paving was heavy. However, city officials advised Ralph von Thurn, St. Louis Red Cross representative, Enid would need no outside aid, and he hurried on to Cherokee.

At Alva, the principal damage was to livestock, many head in lowlands being drowned.

Cherokee was without rail service. Highways rapidly were being opened or detours established.

Curtis Opposes Dry Law Repael

Has Confidence in Party's Ability to Solve Depression

the present administration to bring relief "We are justly proud of what has been done and feel sure that in time such efforts are bound to succeed."

"We all know our country has a bright future; that when this business depression is over we will go forward as we have after every period of depression," he said.

Discussing agriculture at greater length than any other single subject, Curtis recalled congress in the past 11 years enacted between 25 and 30 bills "with the hope and expectation that they would give agriculture the greatly needed and deserved relief."

Looks for Solution

"But I regret to say," he added, "that while some of them have helped to some extent yet most of them have not come up to the expectations of those who introduced and supported them."

"While this problem has not been and should not be partisan, yet the Republican party wishes to solve it and is anxious to bring the farmer into a situation of equality with industry."

"One of the problems is to reduce the spread between what the producer on the farm receives and what the urban consumer pays for such products. Another is to provide the farmers better marketing facilities."

"I have for years believed a national cooperative system would help solve the problem and I still believe such a system, properly organized and conducted, would enable the farmer to get a better price for his products and at the same time do no injury to those who honestly in the buying and selling of farm products, while protecting the farmer against those who will not give him a square deal."

Warner's Deal to Sell 15 Wisconsin Theatres

Fifteen Warner Brothers theatres in Wisconsin cities, including the Appleton theatre in this city, will be turned over to Spyros Skouras, former St. Louis theatre owner, for operation under terms of a deal now being negotiated, according to word from New York. Warner theatres included in the deal are the Appleton at Appleton; the Kenosha at Kenosha; the Downer, Egyptian, Grand, Juno, Kosciuszko, Lake, Riviera, State and Venetian at Milwaukee; the Rialto and Venetian at Racine; and the Majestic and Sheboygan at Sheboygan.

Plan Junior Flower Show At Y. M. C. A.

Young Members of Appleton Garden Society Exhibit Wednesday

A junior member flower and garden show, the first ever held in Appleton, will be held Wednesday, Aug. 24, at the Y. M. C. A. It was decided last night by the flower and garden division of the chamber of commerce at a meeting at the chamber offices.

Children under 14 years of age have been asked to exhibit in five classes. They are best father bouquet, best mother bouquet, best grandmother bouquet, best teacher bouquet and best gladioli bouquet.

There will be five prizes in each of the classes, bulbs that will be delivered later in the fall just previous to planting time. There also will be a grand prize for the best exhibits. Among the bulbs will be iris, delphiniums, gladioli and galardias. Ribbons also will be awarded prize winners.

Children may enter their exhibits by bringing them to the Y. M. C. A. beginning at 8:30 in the morning and until 10:30. Judging will take place at 10:30 by a group still to be selected by the committee in charge. The show will open to the public at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and continue to 8 o'clock in the evening.

Entrants will call the day following for their flowers, containers and other material.

Mrs. M. F. Hatch will have charge of prizes and judging, and Miss Anna Weimar of receiving the entries. Committees soon will be named to help both women.

Two Men Sent to Jail For Theft of Tires

Cornelius LeNoble, Little Chute, and Ralph Smith, Combined Locks, were sentenced to the county jail for 10 days each by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court this morning when they pleaded guilty of petty larceny. The men were unable to pay fines of $25 and costs each. They were arrested by James Gerrits, police chief at Little Chute, on charges of stealing two tires from the car of Joseph Gloudemans at Little Chute Aug. 12.

Farmers Urged to Market Fresh Eggs

Give Rules for Getting Best Results From Poultry

"A dozen of fresh eggs, please." In summer, that constant insistence on the part of customers for fresh, clean eggs presents a challenge to poultrymen everywhere, according to Gus Sell, county agent.

It is relatively easy, however, to place high quality eggs on the market, even during the hot summer months. As J. B. Hayes, of the College of Agriculture, puts it, "An egg when fresh laid is best in quality. From that time on the change occurs, and the amount of change that may take place is determined by the conditions under which the eggs are held."

He suggests a few simple rules which, when followed, will assure a high quality egg for the most particular customer. "Collect eggs" twice daily in hot weather. As soon as gathered, place on a screen in the coolest place available. A clean frame covered with hardware cloth will serve the purpose. As soon as the eggs are cooled, place in a case and keep as cool as possible. Eggs stored at temperatures above 69 degrees F. will slowly start to incubate. Market eggs at frequent intervals and protect from the sun on the way to market."

Frequent gathering and immediate cooling is very important in keeping eggs fresh, Hayes states, because incubation can start as easily in a hot poultry house as in an incubator.

Eggs may be kept clean by providing a clean nest for every five hens and by covering the perches with an inch mesh wire netting as well as by confining the hens to the laying house until the majority of eggs are gathered.

Being assured that fresh, clean eggs can always be secured on the market will do much toward building a strong consumer demand, Hayes suggests.

Philadelphia — An escaped boa constrictor thought he was having a hot time, but it was all an illusion. The snake, whose reported departure from a pet shop sent shivers through the town of upper Darby, was found in the shop, cuddling under a radiator—which was heatless.

Gasoline Helps Kill Plantain, Lawn Weed

Plantain, troublesome lawn weed, may now be "painted" out of a lawn with gasoline, the United States Department of Agriculture says.

Weed-eradication specialists of the department suggest daubing plantain, either the broadleaf or buckhorn, with gasoline to kill it. A paintbrush and a small can of gasoline are all the equipment needed. The gasoline is daubed on the leaves at the center of the plant. The crown of the plantain is somewhat cup-shaped and holds the gasoline until it soaks on down to the roots and kills the plant. The best time to daub the plant's crown is when the ground is dry. Tying the brush to a long stick takes some of the ache out of the job. Plantain are commonly killed by digging them out and cutting the roots about an inch below the surface of the soil. The gasoline method lessens the work. If the lawn is overrun with these weeds, however, it should be dug up and remade. Japan's gold output is increasing.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

The truth is not only stranger than fiction, it is often more interesting. Novelists have written until their hands were cramped, trying to spin tales of eerie horror; but did they ever invent anything to beat that story from Natchez, Miss., about the filing of murder charges against Miss Octavia Dockrey and Richard Dana?

Consider the elements in this story. First there were these two ancient estates, Glen Burne, home of Miss Jane Merrill, who was slain, and Glenwood, adjoining it, home of Dana.

Once there were famous southern plantations. Now they are dilapidated, unkempt, weed-grown, their fine manor houses decrepit and gloomy, their imposing driveways bordered with rank grasses and undergrowth.

And the people themselves had trodden the same path. Forty years ago Miss Merrill, daughter of a former ambassador and one-time "belle of the south," had wealth, position and fame. So did Miss Dockrey, daughter of a Confederate general, and Dana, nephew of the famous New York editor.

Typical of the finest culture of the south were these people and their homes—a generation ago.

But something went wrong, somewhere. Heaven only knows what it may have been; but it seems clear that these three people became three dour and suspicious recluses, eccentric, grim-lipped, mysterious. The gay old culture departed from their pillared mansions; and when the murder was being investigated neighbors told the officers that there had been enmity between Miss Merrill and Dana because of an argument over some goats and pigs which Dana owned!

And the picture of the murder, as sketched by the sheriff, adds the final touch; two people entering a decaying mansion, one holding an oil lamp while the other levelled a gun to kill the aged woman who was once the belle of the south.

Could a novelist have invented a more fascinating, hair-raising tale of decay and morbid gloom than this one from real life?

A CAUSE OF CRIME

Among some of our theatrical folks the sacred bond of matrimony appears to be nothing but a trading security—something to deal in over the counter, so to speak. It circulates from star to star with all the facility and speed of a dollar bill let loose in a group of hard-pressed debtors. Husbands and wives are taken on and cast off as nonchalantly as a pair of old shoes by these "victims of connubiality," whose quick marriages are so often followed by quicker divorces.

The latest news from Hollywood is that John Gilbert, Jr. is out for the marriage record, which is only one of many cases of similar character, and is cited merely to indicate an utter lack of conception of the Christian ideal of matrimony.

Unfortunately, this merry-go-round of folks call marriage is not confined to Hollywood and the theatrical luminaries. Were it so, one could be philosophical and lay it to artistic temperament. But the conditions there are but glaring examples of a general and widespread breakdown in marriage ideals that has a sinister aspect.

Dr. Oliver R. Oliver, practicing psychiatrist and professor of medical history at John Hopkins, is convinced that the present crime waves come from an increasing supply of young criminals produced by broken homes.

Ten years ago, he points out, the hardened criminal was 35 to 40 years of age. Today robbery with firearms is perpetrated mostly by boys 17 to 21 years old.

Dr. Oliver proves by his investigation that fully seventy per cent of these youths are the product of homes where the father has deserted the wife, the wife has severed the family tie. In his opinion there will continue to be a crime conflagration in America "until the home of the great middle class which fixes American morals and customs, revives the fading conception of what Christian marriage really means."

ROOSEVELT FAMILY FEUD

Public interest has been aroused by the apparent efforts of Republican leaders to mitigate any favorable effect the Roosevelt name might have for the Democratic nominee in the coming election. In these efforts, ex-President Roosevelt's family is participating, and not unwillingly it would appear.

Theodore, Jr. is scheduled to return from the Philippines to take the stump for President Hoover, while Mrs. Roosevelt, widow of the ex-President and his two daughters, Mrs. Longworth and Mrs. Derby were conspicuously in the limelight at the recent notification ceremonies in Washington.

For a decade a feud is reported to have existed between these two branches of the family. Franklin D. Roosevelt is a fifth cousin of the ex-President but married the daughter of Theodore Roosevelt's brother. Until the time of the ex-President's death in December, 1919 and during the period of the present Governor Roosevelt's service as Assistant Secretary of the Navy under President Wilson, relations were cordial between the two families. When the present Democratic nominee ran for vice-president on the ticket with James M. Cox these relations became strained. At that time Theodore, Jr., in order to set the voters right on family relationship, said: "Franklin is a maverick. He does not have the brand of our family."

Thenceforth the feud raged and in 1924 when Theodore, Jr. ran against Alfred E. Smith for governor of New York, Governor Roosevelt scored him for his "blind partisanship" and criticized his "wretched record" while assistant secretary of the navy under President Harding. Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt at that time also added fuel to the fire by her public statement that Al Smith's election had been made easy by the poor quality of his Republican opposition.

Since then, Teddy, Jr. has made an enviable record as administrator in Porto Rico and the Philippines. Nor can anyone say that Franklin D. has added anything but honor to the family name. During the coming campaign the public will be appreciative if any lurking skeletons are kept locked securely in the family closets.

Roosevelt, the Democrat, has as much right to his name as Roosevelt, the Republican, and he can make the most of it. In fact, the Democrat appears to be setting the pace in the race for national prestige.

THE OTTAWA CONFERENCE

Representatives of Great Britain and its dominions are in conference at Ottawa, hoping to formulate agreements to trade with one another as much as they can and with the rest of the world as little as they must. It is a gigantic plan for British Empire solidarity and cooperation and other nations are anxiously awaiting the outcome, fearful for their own profitable trade with the Empire.

Any success of this conference will unquestionably have serious effects upon the foreign trade of other nations. However, the British will not have things their own way. Whatever profitable trade arrangements the dominions may set up among themselves or with the mother country are bound to have adverse effect elsewhere.

Mr. John Barrett, former United States minister to Buenos Aires and a man conversant with the affairs of the Pan-American Union is the authority for interesting comment on the situation now developing. He believes that any success of the Ottawa conference giving preferential advantages for the inter-empire exchange of goods will do more than any other world-wide influence to knit more closely together, both politically and commercially, the twenty-one American republics reaching from the United States south to Argentina and Chile, forming the Pan-American Union.

Mr. Barrett has been at Ottawa as an unofficial observer. While there he met an influential representative from Argentina—a country which has been consistently antagonistic to the United States. This man, believing that Argentina will be hit even harder in the export of meat, grains, etc. than will the United States, is convinced that an entirely new and vastly beneficial era of Pan-American understanding, solidarity and cooperation will result—something that has heretofore been impossible because of British Empire policies. Mr. Barrett reports other Latin-American observers as giving expression to the same views.

So the clouds are not all dark and gloomy for those outside the dominion circle. A silver lining will show up somewhere, whatever the British decide to do. International trade cannot be all take and no give, which is a rule that holds equally true among the dominions themselves, as the Ottawa delegates have discovered.

Part-time jobs for University of Iowa students, procured by the school employment service, totaled 2,228 in the 1931 school year, setting a new record and marking an increase of 265 over the previous year.

OUR PUBLIC threw us down yesterday... all six of 'em... no poetry... no red-hot squibs... nothing but blackmail letters from the creditors... tsk, tsk... only the lunch hour to look forward to... and come back from with that tired feeling...

Says an ad we read—"Don't gasp at Lily Samita's Figure."

Yeah, but is there any law against staring?

There probably is.

It appears that the biggest crowds at the Olympic games came during the beginning and end of the events. On each of these days, there was nothing in the program which concerned athletics—just pageants and parades and such. Consequently, the Southern Californians have been accused of loving hokum and pageantry in preference to the real thing.

Mebbo so. It must also be remembered that the west coast sprinters—presumably the best in the world—didn't even come close to the California crew which won out from up San Francisco way, which, to the Southern Californians, is not so hot.

It begins to look—if the Cubs can maintain their present pace—that Joe McCarthy, fired by the Cubs, will be bringing a team to Wrigley field in October. What great fun for Joe!

Not that Joe wants revenge or anything like that. No, no. Tillie. He just wants to be home-town boy coming back to make good. Mymy, yes.

It appears that Jimmy Walker's girl friend who has caused so much embarrassment for Jimmy just lately is Betty Compton. At first, it seemed to be a deep, dark secret about who the gal was. Yet, it seems to us that years ago we heard that Betty's name was linked somehow with that of Jimmy's and how Mrs. Walker publicly poo-pooed the idea and went on playing golf.

Now that the Lindberghs have a new baby boy to help comfort them and give them something new to live for, we wonder if the world won't please give 'em a break and let 'em alone. The Lone Eagle himself partially blames the tragedy of his first-born upon the relentless publicity which accompanied the twelfth month of the baby's life. The second son deserves a better break. Let's hope he gets a chance to grow up like his father did—by himself.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

THE FIGHTER

And if the fight I lose, what then?
The world is filled with stronger men
Than I, whose blows I cannot meet.
There's no disgrace in such defeat
Unless, perchance, afraid to fall,
I will not face my foe at all.

Lord, spare me that! The stronger man
May down me, since he knows he can.
The odds are with him. At a blow
He has the power to lay me low.
But till I cannot raise a fist
His every onslaught I'd resist.

I would not crawl upon the dust
Until I'm helpless and I must.
Outmatched I may be, but I'd fight
With all my courage and my might,
That he who puts me on my back
Shall know 'tis only strength I lack.

Some say 'tis wisdom oft to flee.
But judge of that each man must be,
And sometimes for his self-respect
A man must stand and head erect
And take the cruel blows which fall,
Rather than fail to fight at all.

Looking Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, August 17, 1922
Road houses and dance halls in Winnebago-co were to be under the vigilant scrutiny of the W. C. T. U. from that time on, according to a resolution adopted at the county convention the previous day at the Plymouth Congregational church, Oshkosh, where a member in each community was appointed to look after that work.

Congregation Moses Montefiore of Appleton was ready to build a $24,000 synagogue in Appleton.

The new summer residence of John Conway at Shore Acres on the shore of Lake Winnebago was completed that day.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lange and family were spending their vacation at Berry Lake that week.

Lewis C. Slinger that day moved from his Prospect-st. home to the John H. Whorton home on Norris-st.

The Misses Dorothy and Margaret De Young, Appleton, left that day to spend their vacation at Lake Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heinemann and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Koffend, Jr. were to return the following Sunday from a week's motor trip to Superior and through the northern part of the state.

J. D. See's and family left the previous day for an extended trip through the east.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, August 22, 1907

A marriage license was issued the previous day to J. W. Wilson and Elizabeth Peterson, both of Appleton.

Mrs. J. Soley left the previous day for Seymour where she was to spend several weeks with friends and relatives.

Mrs. A. O. Hall and daughter, Vivian, left that day for Milwaukee to be the guests of friends and relatives for two weeks.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

THE SKIN YOU LOVE TO SCRATCH

We gave several useful remedies for the relief of itching, smothering, irritation or burning of the skin in the talk about Seven Ages of Itching the other day. Today we have some more recipes for you. Better make a note or clipping of any you may wish to use. Nothing gets me off my howling so much as a lot of letters from folk who decide six weeks after publication of an item like this that they want a copy, when we have no copies available.

For heat rash (prickly heat) bathe with a handful of bran in basin of tepid water, or a tablespoonful of saleratus (soda) in basin of tepid water, dry with soft towel and powder freely with cornstarch powder or with zinc stearate powder or with boricated talcum. Avoid soap.

Chafing between opposing skin surfaces calls for gentle soap and tepid water bathing, repeated rinsing away of the soap, drying with soft towel and fanning, then heavily coating with stearate powder. If the chafed or scalded surface is moist, smear it with fresh castor oil or witch hazel petroleum and cover with a piece of soft linen. Exposure to the air is the best preventive and cure for chafing or scalding.

For chapping, redness or roughness of the skin, this lotion is an old standby:
Boric acid powder 3 drams
Tragacanth shavings 30 grains
Glycerin 3 drams
(tablespoonful)
Rain water or distilled water One pint

Boil, stirring constantly, till a clear jelly is obtained. Apply after washing the hands and before skin is quite dry, two or three times a day.

This lotion is excellent after shaving.

Of course the relief of the itching of scabies, old-fashioned itch is the cure of the disease, and that means the killing of the itch mites that burrow under the epidermis. The best remedy for this is sulfur ointment—not "sulphur and lard" crudely mixed up, but sulfur ointment made by the skilled pharmacist, a pound of it, fresh after the formula in the Pharmacopoeia. The success of this treatment depends largely upon the manner in which the sulphur is applied. No room here to give instructions.

Bath pruritis is a mild degree of itching, rather irritating, depending the following measures:

1. Don't bathe.
2. If you must bathe, make it short and no more extensive than the law requires.
3. Avoid the use of soap.
4. The less clothing you wear at any time, the more comfort.
5. Use your skin as much as possible.
6. Use some salve of oil on the skin.

After a hard application of skin cream, Lanolin 2 drams
Boroglyceride 1 dram
Cold cream, made from 4 drams
White Petroleum 4 drams

This should be rubbed in a collapsible tube, and a tube of this is enough to apply daily.

Many persons who suffer with bath pruritis or scalded water itch need treatment to increase the activity of cutaneous glands. This may be accomplished by taking a suitable iodine bath. The following instructions for taking an Iodine Bath, and include with your request a 3-cent stamped envelope bearing your address.

Here is a recipe for the relief of local pruritis:
Tannic acid 20 grains
Alcohol One-half ounce
Glycerin One-half ounce
Water, to make Four ounces

Apply night and morning on a napkin or fold of linen.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY WILLIAM GARDNER

New York—The old clothes market on Elizabeth street—that's where some of our cast-off coats and trousers go after we've wrangled a few slim coins for 'em from the burlesque-type buyer who rings our doorbells and inquires:

"Any ol' suits, shews, he's?" In a block that runs off Bayard, hard by Chinatown, but not of it, the wholesalers in old clothes do their bargaining with the itinerant buyers.

This may be some compensation for those who, in exasperation at the derbied and bewhiskered doorbell pushers, have flung cast-off garments in their faces and accepted payments which represented little less than robbery.

Sales talkers are unheeded here. Screw-eyed experts go through a batch of clothing in a few seconds and state the price they will pay. The price is to be taken or left. Usually the price is taken, and the recipient goes off mumbling and shaking his hands at the "injustice."

The Elizabeth street buyers in turn stock their own or someone else's retail second-hand store. But some of them do their best business by shipping lots of their goods to Europe, to be sold to the poor over there.

It's such complicated shoe-string financing that it's hard to figure out. I'm sure I can't advise whether you, as an individual, could realize more by shipping your cast-off tuxedo to Liverpool, to be sold there, than you could by letting it go through second-hand channels right here at home.

In Darkest Manhattan

A hotel for negroes has been opened on the lower end of the Bowery. Old timers of that famous thoroughfare tell me that this is the first establishment the street has had. Heretofore, negroes have been strangers to the Bowery.

Mongolians long ago set up their business places among the Caucasians of the street of all nations. Wandering about the foreign sections of the city, one encounters this sign, pasted on bill-boards by the League for American Citizenship: "Free Help Given."

The "free" part may catch one's eye as it was intended that it should. There are quackdoctors here and there who prey upon unknowing immigrants, offering to sell them the "secrets" of citizenship for so much.

One of the gloomiest stretches in New York is along that street bearing the delightful name of Greenwich. Near the water-front, overshadowed by the elevated railway, it is lined with dreary and decrepit structures. Even in midday when the sun is shining somewhere near abouts, Greenwich street is dark and, at once, forlorn and vicious.

Cosmopolitanism

New York, you may have heard, is a cosmopolitan town. Nothing exemplifies that fact more eloquently than the sign on the curious machine of a curb horse-scope vender, seen in the Bronx: "Your horoscope in English, Hungarian, Italian, German, Spanish, Russian, Jewish, Polish—3 cents."

Today's Anniversary

BRITISH PUSH FORWARD
On Aug. 4, 1918, British forces in the Lys salient pushed forward on a five-mile front near Bailleul, storming Outtersteene just before midnight.

American troops in Lorraine continued their advance in the vicinity of Frapelle, which they had taken the day before.

German general orders taken from officers captured in the days fighting told of plans for the German army to retire to positions many miles back of the lines then held.

Spring and summer in the five German losses and offensives and the constant battering of the rapidly increasing allied armies had reduced German manpower to the lowest point since the beginning of the war.

Barbs

Another one of those optical illusions: the closer money is, the harder it is to get.

They're still arguing about whether John Hanson or George Washington was the first president of the United States. If they keep that up much longer, the only solution will be for the supreme court to hold the Declaration of independence unconstitutional.

A Bystander In Washington

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—In the same issue of the Congressional Record that Col. John Tilson of Connecticut chose to announce the fact that he was resigning from the house after 22 years of service he inserted another statement.

Whether it was a coincidence or not, it was a tribute to the memory of "Nick" Longworth, late speaker of the house and his friend.

Some 80 pages over from the place where he stated his determination to quit he wrote: "I cannot permit the Record to close without a word about Nicholas Longworth. When he became speaker, I became majority leader, and for six years our labor together might be described as that of yoke fellows.

"No majority leader ever had a fairer or more just share of the inevitable responsibility than I had in Nick Longworth. He was always willing to give and take..."

Valedictory

Could the colonel have had these pleasant associations with Longworth in his mind as he composed his valedictory to the house? For then he wrote:

"I suppose if all of us were as good as the best of us, none of us would ever quit congress willingly. While if all of us were as bad as the worst of us, probably there would be little satisfaction in any one of us staying here. It would be delightfully pleasant if we might truthfully say... all were high-minded, courageous, fair, considerate... It is perhaps not safe to go further than to say the average in this regard is high..."

Tilson is not the first to quit congress perhaps a bit disillusioned. John Sharp Williams, a senator from Mississippi, marched down from Capitol Hill after years of service in both house and senate, declaring that he'd rather be a hound dog baying at the Mississippi moon than to continue in the senate.

A Blow to Pride

That Colonel Tilson took to heart the blow which befell him at the death of Longworth—loss of the leadership of his party in the house—everyone in Washington knows.

He had thought that he would fall heir to it with the passing of Longworth. Precedent had sort of decreed it. Longworth himself had stepped into the speakership from the position as floor leader.

But Tilson lost out. Snell of New York wrested the place from him. Tilson had been the second in rank of the "house mucksters" of Longworth, Tilson and Snell. Doubtless he felt with the break-up of the triumvirate which stripped him of all rank there was but one course to take.

A novelist's says that he frequently fails to write a single word in the first hour he works. Just another argument for the one-hour work day.

Not in the clothing buying mood?

These prices will change your mind

Here is what it takes to weaken the determination of the man who has definitely made up his mind to buy no clothing this month.

Here is what makes the man who is firmly nodding "No" change his decision to "Yes".

Look... that's all we or the suits ask. You've never seen such tempting prices. You'll buy if you'll look.

County Boils As Campaign Waxes Warm

Size of Democratic Vote at Primary Is Unknown
Factor This Year

By H. K. Derus
Outagamie-co now is in the midst of what probably is its hottest pre-primary election campaign in many years.

Election campaigns here always have been more or less interesting but this year it is increasingly so because of the fact that the Democrats have candidates for every county office with the exception of county clerk. In fact, the Democrats have more candidates for sheriff than the Republicans, and there is being waged a nice battle for the Democratic nomination. Of the 36 candidates seeking nomination at the primaries this year, 15 are Democrats and 21 are Republicans.

The large number of Democrats seeking the nomination for sheriff accurately reflects the feeling of optimism that pervades the Democrats of Outagamie-co. It is hard to predict just what will happen at the primary election this fall or how large the Democratic vote will be.

Much Interest
Not in a decade has there been so much interest in the Democratic party, so many volunteer workers, or such crowds at Democratic meetings. This, coupled with the fact that an immense Democratic vote was registered at the spring elections, has given the Democrats great optimism. A series of rallies in the county, good speakers, an appeal to remain in the Democratic primary, a well-planned campaign to inform Democrats of the importance of voting the Democratic ticket in the primary election, and organized workers in every community make up the Democratic committee's plans so far.

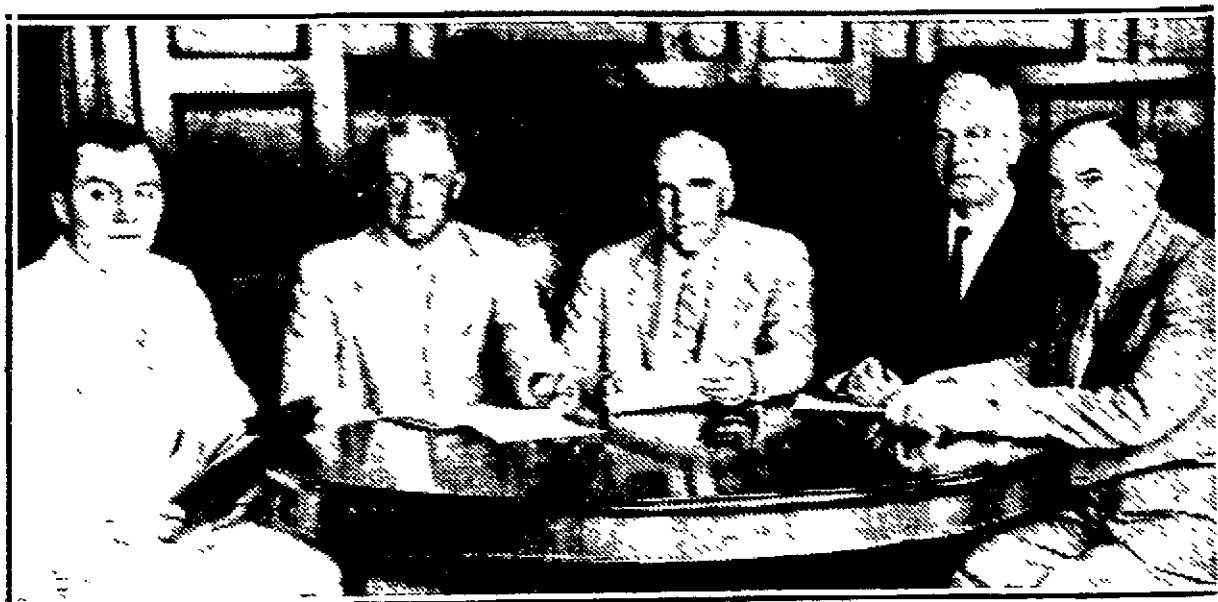

On the other hand the Republicans are not just sitting quietly by. The committee already has opened its headquarters here. The Republicans, so far as the state offices and congressional and senatorial seats are concerned, admit their hardest fight is at the primary, and so necessarily their hardest work is being done now. The brunt of the campaign for the "regulars" is being carried by the official Outagamie County Republican committee. The attention of this committee is being given more to state and national issues than to county and Republican candidates, for county officers are conducting their own personal campaigns. This is exactly what was done in past years.

Divide County
The Republicans have divided the county into six districts. Each of these districts has organized its workers for a strenuous campaign. Each district conducts its own campaign with the county committee overseeing and directing all efforts to avoid duplication and to see that the best results are obtained. A "man-a-mile" program has been instituted by the regulars whereby a worker will be responsible for every mile of road in the country in getting out the full regular Republican vote.

And the Outagamie County Farmer-Labor Progressive league is directing the fight for the Progressive Republican ticket. The program of this organization is being worked out along lines which were carried out in the past, with the exception that more small meetings are being held this year. Voters throughout the county are very much aware of the fact that a campaign is in progress. With 36 candidates fighting tooth and nail for the nominations there is evidence at every hand that the battle is waxing hot. Candidates are out early in the morning visiting cheese factories where they can meet the farmers. They also spend considerable time following threshing machine crews through the country. Some of the candidates are even making house to house canvasses of the city districts.

Many Placards
Almost every available post, tree or stump along the important highways is covered with cards telling of the qualifications of the various candidates. Show windows also are filled with cards and the number of signs appearing on cars increases every day.

Following is a complete list of candidates:

Only one candidate for office is unopposed. He is John E. Hantschel, candidate for county clerk. There will be three candidates for treasurer, ten candidates for sheriff, two for register of deeds, three for clerk of courts, two for coroners, three for assemblyman from the first district, and five for assemblyman from the second district. The candidates are:

The Candidates
County clerk, John E. Hantschel, incumbent, Appleton Republican.
County treasurer, John F. Lappen, present sheriff, Republican.
John Adrians, Democrat.
Marie Ziegenhagen, incumbent, Republican, all of Appleton.
Sheriff, Edward E. Lutz: present undersheriff, Edward Draeger, Frederick W. Giese, Peter G. Schwartz, Republicans, all of Appleton; and Walter Scherck, Jake Ashauer, John W. Roach, A. M. Engebak, all of Appleton; Martin Verhagen, Kimberly, and William J. Galmbacher, Kaukauna, Democrats.

Register of Deeds, A. G. Koch, incumbent, Republican, John Burke, Democrat, both of Appleton.

Clerks of courts, Sydney M. Shannon, incumbent, Raymond E. Voigt, Republicans, of Appleton. Peter N. Diny, Democrat, Appleton.

Coroner—Herbert E. Ellsworth, incumbent, Republican, William C. Felton, Democrat, both of Appleton.

Surveyor—Frank M. Charlesworth, incumbent, Kaukauna; Republican, Anton De Witt, Little Chute, Robert M. Connelly, Appleton, Democrats.

Mrs. Miller Is Chaplain Of Auxiliary

MRS. H. W. MILLER, Appleton, was elected chaplain of the American Legion Auxiliary which closed Wednesday at La Crosse after a three day session. Election to this office makes Mrs. Miller a delegate to the national convention which opens Sept. 10 in Portland, Ore. Two other Appleton women, Mrs. August Arens and Mrs. Stanley Staidl, were named alternates to the national convention.

One of the outstanding events held during the convention was the Friday breakfast which took place Tuesday morning at the Stoddard hotel, with Mrs. John Coe, Barron, department fidac chairman, presiding. Mrs. Adeline Wright McAuley, past international fidac president, appeared in a costume sent her by the women of Yugoslavia. The costume is hand woven and will be used by Mrs. McAuley for her lecture work. She spoke on fidac work.

Several units in the ninth district of which Appleton is a member, received awards Wednesday. Appleton will again hold the Longdon membership trophy for having the largest unit in the state. The trophy was presented to the ninth district but will be held by the Appleton unit on account of its membership record.

DePere unit was awarded first place in the American doll contest. The doll, which is dressed as Martha Washington, will be entered in the national contest at the Portland convention. Kaukauna was given a silver loving cup for having doubled its membership in the past year.

Mrs. John Coe, Barron, was elected department president for the coming year. New officers were installed by Mrs. Fred Williams, national auxiliary president.

The Appleton delegates to the convention were Mrs. H. W. Miller, Mrs. Floyd Hardacker, Mrs. Stanley Staidl, Mrs. August Arens, Mrs. Elmer Schabo, Mrs. Fred Heinrich, Mrs. Elmer Koss, and Mrs. Clarence Baetz. The delegation returned Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eberhardt, 212 N. Weimar-st., entertained the Schakopf club Wednesday night at their home. Prizes were won by Mrs. Leo Keating, and Mr. and Mrs. Eberhardt. The club will meet in two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Koss, E. Brewster-st.

A joint picnic of the Sunshine club and Women's Relief corps, Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, will take place at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the city park. Ice cream and cake will be served. In case of rain the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernestine Sonntag, 614 N. Bateman-st. A short business meeting will take place and cards will be played. Officers of the Sunshine club are in charge of arrangements.

Attends Celebration At Mount Calvary

Father Leonard of the Capuchin monastery has returned from Mount Calvary, where he attended the celebration commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the foundation of Holy Cross monastery and the seventieth anniversary of the opening of St. Lawrence preparatory seminary.

The Rev. Celestine O. M. Cap, formerly stationed at the Capuchin Monastery here, gave an address on The Capuchin Foundation. While in Appleton Father Bittle wrote his first book, "Soldiering for Cross and Flag."

The monastery at Mount Calvary is the cradle of the first province of the Capuchin order in the United States. During the services Wednesday morning a statue of St. Lawrence of Brindisi, a Capuchin saint and patron of the seminary, was dedicated. Pontifical high mass was celebrated Wednesday morning by the Most Rev. Samuel A. Smith, archbishop of Milwaukee.

Fliers Lay Plans for First Lap to Norway

Montpelier, Vt.—Clyde A. Lee of Oshkosh, Wis., and Julius Robertson of Neenah, Wis., said yesterday they would take off from the Barre-Montpelier airport early Friday morning for Harbor Grace, N. F., the first leg in a projected flight to Oslo, Norway.

John Boshkor of Brooklyn, N. Y., a native of Norway, will accompany the fliers in their plane, Green Mountain Boy.

The fliers had at Harbor Grace what they called extra gasoline tanks and then a satisfactory weather for the flight.

Parties

Christian Mothers society of St. Mary church will sponsor a card party at 2.30 Friday afternoon at Columbia hall. Schakopf and bridge will be played. Mrs. Frank Bara and Mrs. Cornelius Crowe will be in charge.

Ten tables were in play at the card party given by the Auxiliary to Spanish War Veterans Wednesday afternoon in the basement of Appleton State bank. Prizes at schakopf were won by Mrs. E. Lietken and Mrs. C. A. Kaufman, at bridge by Mrs. J. Hassman, and at dice by Mrs. Rose Bogan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bleier, 736 W. Eighth-st., entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Wednesday night at their home in honor of Ted Bleier, formerly of Appleton, who is coach at the high school in Miami, Fla., and of Vesper Chamberlin, who will leave Saturday to attend the Dancing Masters' convention at Chicago. Covers were laid for 10 guests.

Over the Teacups club will be entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon Friday at Riverview Country club. This is the third and last of the summer functions of the club. The regular fall program will be resumed in September.

Mrs. Wilnot Beats Mrs. Nelson, 5 to 3, At Butte des Morts

Mrs. N. J. Wilnot, Appleton, defeated Mrs. W. H. Nelson, Menasha, 5 and 3, in B flight in the women's golf tournament at Butte des Morts Golf club Wednesday. In the semifinals, Mrs. Wilnot will meet Mrs. H. A. DeBauer who defeated Miss Mary Plank.

Mrs. Wilnot won first place for low gross in the ladies' day events at the club Wednesday. She shot a 35 and 50 for a total of 105. Mrs. W. H. Nelson was awarded the prize for low net. She shot 111 and her handicap was 27, making a net of 84. Seventeen entrants took part in the day's golf events. Mrs. John Engel, Jr., was golf chairman for the day.

Six tables of bridge were in play and prizes were won by Mrs. W. C. Jacobson and Mrs. C. W. Zelle. Mrs. Paul Backbeck was in charge of bridge.

Butte des Morts women will be hostesses to all women members of clubs belonging to the Northeastern Women's Golf association next Wednesday at the club.

Society of Church Has Park Outing

GAMES provided entertainment at the meeting of Zion Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon at Erb park. Prizes were by Mrs. Leona Merkle, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, Mrs. Anna Stecker, Mrs. Pauline Buchholz, Mrs. Henrietta Jentz, and Mrs. Lillian Wheeler.

Hostesses were Mrs. Marie Egert, Mrs. Hulda Holterman, Mrs. Clara Hoffman, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, and Mrs. Henrietta Jentz, and the entertainment committee included Mrs. Anna Stecker and Mrs. Mabel Beger. A picnic lunch was served. The next meeting will be a business and social gathering at the school hall the third Wednesday in September.

Senior Luther League of First English Lutheran church will hold a special meeting at 8 o'clock Friday night at the church. Delegates will be elected to the state Luther League convention at Camp Cleg-horn, Waupaca, the weekend of Labor Day.

Delegates Returns From Convention Of Pythian Lodge

Fred Schlitz, delegate of the local Knights of Pythias to the grand lodge which convened Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday in Milwaukee, returned to Appleton Wednesday night. Mrs. Walter Gmeiner, Pythian Sisters' delegate, and Mrs. George Schmidt, a grand officer, are expected to return sometime Thursday.

Legislation in accord with present economic conditions for the benefit of the order took place during the convention. The outstanding social function of the meeting was the banquet which was served to over 300 persons Tuesday night at Hotel Schroeder. About 350 persons attended the convention.

Mrs. Schmidt was elected grand manager of Pythian Sisters for the coming year. She held the office of grand protector last year.

Why Hoover Faces Defeat

When you get too angry you can argue in such a way that you defeat your own ends; and a fine example of this little truth is provided by Robert Allen in his book, "Why Hoover Faces Defeat."

Here is perhaps the most virulent book of the year.

Mr. Allen believes that President Hoover is going to be defeated in the coming campaign. He believes that he ought to be defeated. He has written this book to tell why.

So far, so good. A book written on that basis might be a thoughtful, instructive piece of political criticism.

But Mr. Allen gets too angry—and his book will probably do the president more good than harm.

That is to say, the ordinary reader is apt to arise from a perusal of this book with the feeling that no man can possibly be all that Mr. Allen says President Hoover is; and he is apt to meditate that the president is an unjustly maligned man who deserves a vote of confidence.

Some of the criticisms in this book seem to me to be just; but there are so many which are palpably overdrawn that they take the edge off of the just ones. If Mr. Allen could have restrained himself a bit he might have produced an effective campaign document; as it is, he has produced a masterpiece of invective—but little more.

Normal Diet, Routine are Beauty Tips

BY ELSIE PIERCE
As I mentioned in my column the other day, studying the stars is a revelation. One realizes how human they are and how sensible. Here are Nancy Carroll's theories. Her pet beauty secret is eight glasses of water a day. This pleased me, as you may well imagine, seeing as how this column has stressed the benefits of sufficient water every day.

Her beauty message is: "Live a healthy, regulated life. Sleep eight hours every night, eat all meals at the same hours daily and do not over-eat or over-exercise."

Miss Carroll's bedtime beauty secret is bending to the floor fifty times and her favorite exercises are deep breathing, bending, swimming and driving. Miss Carroll believes that three creamings a day will keep the wrinkles away, and that a large jar of cleansing cream should have a place of honor on every woman's dressing table, in the business woman's desk, in the sportsman's car, etc. Beside it keep a roll of cleansing tissues to wipe off the cream, softly and gently. On waking in the morning, she cleanses face and neck with cream and leaves a little of the cream on during her shower. She says she uses tissues. In the middle of the day another cleansing before fresh make-up is applied. Take it from one who knows this mid-day cleansing perks up your spirits as well as your good looks. Before retiring, this star feels that "all civilized women cream face and neck."

A light suntan powder, very light pink rouge with matching lipstick complete her daytime make-up. For evening the same powder, but a darker lipstick, violet eyeshadow and brown mascara.

Rich desserts, a taboo and a normal diet comprised mostly of vegetables helps to keep Miss Carroll slender. Knowing that blue best enhances her beauty, she chooses bright blue for daytime wear and pale blue for evening. By the way, clothes and color knowledge go a long way toward transforming a plain woman to a very smart one. I have two bulletins, one in color and another on fashion hints which are yours for the asking; but do include self-addressed, stamped envelope for each.

Old Gardener

THE OLD GARDENER SAYS:
Summer squashes will keep on bearing until frost if the squashes are harvested as soon as they are ready. This is true of the vegetable marrow. They are not good when they get so hard that the thumb nail cannot readily be pressed in to the skin so as to leave a mark. Vegetable marrows, however, need not be thrown away if they get hard because they make excellent squash pies. The rind of vegetable marrows too can be used to good advantage in making sweet pickles. It is unfortunate that this excellent vegetable is not grown more widely in American gardens.

My Neighbor Says—

Wind-fall apples make delicious apple sauce. If put in jars while boiling hot and sealed airtight sauce will keep all winter.

If you do not have a regular canning boiler cut a piece of heavy wire screening, such as is used to cover cellar windows, six inches wider than the boiler and two inches shorter. With wire pliers bend the wire down on each side. This makes a substantial rack.

When eggs are high instead of using egg batter and bread crumbs to brown over fish when preparing for frying use a paste made of flour and water, then dust with crumbs and fry fish at once. It makes an excellent substitute.

Here are Suggestions for Hot Weather Weddings

Here is an attractive refreshment table for the late summer wedding. The cake is the center of interest. Cut first by the bride, it then is served to the members of the bridal party.

BY MRS. ALEX. R. GEORGE
(Author of "Menus for the Day" in the Post-Crescent.)

The summer as a season for weddings has an advantage over other times of the year because of the variety of suitable settings for the ceremony.

If an attractive garden is available it is an ideal spot, since the flowers and foliage provide an excellent background. Refreshments can be served at small tables in the yard or on the porch.

The colors used for the decorations and foods are those carried out in the costumes of the bridal attendants.

The wedding cake is the center of interest on the refreshment table. It sometimes contains such favors as a ring, thimble or coin.

Hot weather makes simple refreshments best, but they should be dainty and refreshing.

WEDDING REFRESHMENTS
Frozen Fruit Salad
Nut Bread Sandwiches
Peach Ice Cream
Bride's Cake
Fruit Punch

Punch can be served with the refreshments or it can be placed in a bowl located in a convenient place in the house or on the porch.

Frozen Fruit Salad, Serving 12
1 cup almonds 2 cups diced cream 2 cups diced pears 2 cups diced peaches 1 cup mayonnaise 1 cup seeded white cherries 2 cups diced pineapple 1 cup red cherries

Mix cream and mayonnaise. Add rest of ingredients. Pour into a tray in mechanical refrigerator and in 4 hours salad will be frozen. Cut into squares and serve on lettuce and top with more mayonnaise.

This salad can be frozen by pouring into a mold, covering with several thicknesses of waxed paper and a lid and packing 4 hours in 4 parts of chopped ice to one part of coarse salt.

Bride's Cake
1 cup butter 1 teaspoon almond extract 2 cups sugar 1 cup milk 1 cup milk 3 cups pastry flour 1 teaspoon vanilla 3 teaspoons baking powder 1 teaspoon salt 1 egg whites, beaten

Cream the butter and sugar. Add milk extract, flour, baking powder and salt. Beat 3 minutes. Fold in beaten egg whites. Pour into 2 layer cake pans fitted with waxed papers. Bake 25 minutes in moderate slow oven. Cool and frost.

Nut Bread (2 loaves)
3 cups Graham flour 15 teaspoons salt 3 cups flour 2 eggs 3 cups sugar 3 cups sour milk 3 cups nuts, ing powder 3 tablespoons soda 3 tablespoons fat, melted

Mix ingredients and pour into 2 greased loaf pans fitted with waxed papers. Bake 30 minutes in moderate oven. Cool and slice.

Fruit Punch (For 12)
2 cups water 2 cups grape juice 2 cups orange juice 1 cup lemon juice 4 cups iced tea 8 cups iced water

Boil sugar and water 4 minutes. Cool. Add rest of ingredients. Chill. Serve in glasses half filled with chopped ice. Candied cherries, lemon and orange slices can be frozen in the ice cubes used for this punch if one has a mechanical refrigerator.

Peach Ice Cream, Serving 12
1 1/2 quarts milk 2 cups sugar 4 teaspoons vanilla 4 cups crushed peaches

Mix cream, sugar and vanilla. Let stand for 5 minutes. Stir several times. Pour into a sterilized freezer and turn crank until freezing begins. Add peaches and freeze until stiff. Remove dasher and let cream "ripen" 2 hours or longer.

The Story of Sue

By Margery Hale

THE telephone wires weren't down on account of the storm! The truth dawned on Sue as she gazed out of the window, across the road, where someone in the Bradley house had picked up a telephone and was talking into the receiver.

"No connection had been severed," she said.

"Let's not stay here tonight," she said.

"Don't let it get you, Sue," he answered, almost gaily. "No one's coming in. What good would it do them? Burns wants the key to the safe—or better still, the papers themselves. And hurting us won't get them."

"I know. The two words dropped from the room, and I heard, heavily weighed."

"I was foolish to make Jack understand that there was any danger around. He wouldn't listen. He wouldn't believe her. When it was too late he might. It made her angry. No, so much at him as against the night, the fear, the uncertainty and her own helplessness."

Jack went on talking. Then she heard him whispering in his shoulder. "I couldn't smile or talk. I was afraid to move, afraid that some shadow would suddenly take me. A dog barked somewhere in the yard. A car went by not far and she held her breath."

"When Jack came out, he gazed at her curiously. 'Sue, you're as white as the sheets. Are you that scared?'"

"Sue didn't answer. He wouldn't understand."

"Then she remembered that as the bedroom door was wide open."

"Will you look it, please, Jack?" she asked.

"He smiled amusedly but he looked at her."

"Someone might have a pass key. Couldn't we put some furniture in front of it?"

"For the love of Moses, Sue, what's got into you?" he asked. "Don't cultivate nerves. Nothing is going to happen."

"I feared to Sue that his voice had an exasperated ring to it. She forgot that he had had a busy day and was tired."

"All right, then, don't put anything in front of it. Don't even lock it. I don't want it locked."

"Why not?" He was cheerful again. "Turning the key isn't any bother, but dragging a chest of drawers against it."

"I know. It will be so nice if someone comes in and points a gun at you. At least you might be—considerate."

"Why Sue?"

"He raised the windows, turned out the lamps, climbed into bed, and pulled her head down on his shoulder. But she jerked away. She didn't know why she did it. She wanted to stay near, held in that warm, protecting embrace. But she was angry now."

"If anyone came she wouldn't even struggle. She turned away, and as she did so Jack suddenly arose and started to drag the chest of drawers against the door."

"If it will make you feel any better, I," he said, but his voice was very tender.

Hours later Sue awakened. Listening—

You Can't Keep Friends if Your Tongue is Your Enemy

BY DOROTHY DIX
DEAR MISS DIX—What is wrong with me? I am a married woman with two children, a wonderful husband, a good home, a car, but no company or friends. No one ever drops in or invites me out. I'll admit I lack tact. My tongue gets the better of me. I say or write things without thinking that offend people or I step on some one's toes and don't know it until I am told how sarcastic I have been. My husband has a sparkling personality and I am no dumber, but we are practically friendless, so far as social contacts go. What's the remedy for the situation?MRS. ANONYMOUS.

Answer: I should say that what you need is a course in diplomacy. Of course, in a way, tact is a gift of nature. It is a sort of sixth sense that enables one to define tactfully what would hurt or offend another person, but if your Fairy Godmother failed to put this valuable gift in your cradle you can make a very good synthetic article that will do for all practical purposes.

The people who are bulls in the conversational china shop and who are always saying and doing the wrong thing, excuse their blunders by saying that they did not think, which is no palliation of the offense if they are a grade above the moron.

I always feel like saying to them: "Don't tell me you didn't think! What did God say to you? Didn't He say to you that you should be a thinker for if you don't use it?"

And that is true enough. If we have a thinker we should use it, and we can use it no more profitably than in dealing with our fellow creatures.

There is no excuse for discussing bank details with a woman whose son was a trusted cashier who falsified his accounts and was being sent to prison.

And that is true enough. If we have a thinker we should use it, and we can use it no more profitably than in dealing with our fellow creatures.

Then we like to have people say pleasant things to us. We like to have our little personal taxes remembered and to be made to feel that we are interesting and amusing and that others enjoy our conversation.

We like to be congratulated upon our little exploits and consoled with upon our misadventures. We like a note of sympathy or a telegram of condolence. We like to have people ask us about our children and our pets and our hobbies and our gardens and our automobiles and for them to listen with an interested expression while we discuss them upon them.

And we hate it when people tell us that our new dress is unbecoming or that we have put on weight or tell us of our children's faults or ask us embarrassing questions about things that we consider none of their business.

Try this simple recipe for cultivating tact and see if you do not draw people to you instead of driving them away from you.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX— I own and operate a beauty shop in a town of about 30,000. For the last two years I have been having quite a case with a man who travels this town. I have talked to him about divorcing his wife, but they have been married a long time and I guess he still cares for her. I am worried now for his wife has found out about me and I have learned that she has a lot of friends here and I am afraid it will hurt my business. Is there any way I can force him to divorce her and marry me? I feel that he should for I have given him a lot. What would you advise me to do?UDELE.

Answer:—Charge it all off to profit and loss and let the lesson you have gained pay for what it cost you. When you gamble on as uncertain a thing as a married man's intentions, you should be a good enough sport not to whine when you lose out.

Certainly any woman should have sense enough to know that when she has an affair with a married man she adds a new element to his life and it isn't even a 10-40 shot that she won't be left at the post.

Especially when the man is a traveling man for traveling men are never any like the stable who have a sweetheart in every port and the real sweetheart, the wife, at home to whom they go back in the end.

Anyway, it is seldom that any married man's love-making is to be taken seriously. It is just to pass away the time and to flatter his own vanity by seeing whether he can make a girl care for him and all of his talk about being unhappily married and having a wife who doesn't understand him and how he craves sympathy is just a line. He isn't in the least thinking of getting a divorce or desiring of marrying the girl before whom he is beating upon his breast and mourning over what, oh why didn't I meet you in time!

And nobody can be sure that a man who does not love his wife and who is having an affair with another woman is not a selfish creature who is only interested in his own pleasure and who is not at all concerned for the happiness of the woman he is seducing.

DEAR MISS DIX— I am a widow with three small children. I am much in love with a man who I think is a very nice fellow. He says he will marry me, but he says he must first have the children. What must I do?D.

Answer: Stick to your children and let the man go. Your first duty is to them and you will never be happy without them.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

By Emily Post

GLOVES.
In answer to many requests, let me in part repeat:

Always wear gloves on the street, in a restaurant, in a theatre, when you go to lunch, or to a formal dinner, or to a dance. Take them off when you eat. A lady never takes off her gloves to shake hands, no matter when or where. And never apologizes for wearing gloves when shaking hands. The only exception is when she is wearing earth-stained gardening gloves or possibly golf or riding gloves, which might seem marring to the hand or the new fresh glove of another. She would pull it off, or say, "I can't shake hands."

A gentleman takes off a street shoe to shake hands. Or says, "Excuse my shoes, I have just come from such a passing a friend in the crowd, he is not given a chance to pull his glove off if he is wearing evening gloves at a dinner or a ball, or riding gloves as usual at a wedding, he keeps them on and never asks that they be excused."

At formal dinners women wear their gloves until they sit down at table. They are then taken off entirely and laid across the lap. After dinner in the drawing room they may be put on again, but at present only the elderly and most conservative do this. In fact, only the very conservative and a few of the very smart wear gloves at dinners.

When playing a formal visit at a lady keeps on her gloves in the house of an intimate friend she keeps them on or takes them off as she feels inclined. But in any case she takes them off to eat, especially before picking up anything that may be sticky.

Conventionally a bride always wears gloves. But at small weddings, especially in summer and in the country, she quite as often goes without.

With bracelets, short gloves are caught under them in such a way as to partly cover and partly show the bracelets.

Gloves should always be worn in church, and worn by those receiving communion.

Today's MenuICED CHOCOLATE
Frozen Sherbet, Spiced Fingers
Iced Chocolate
Salted NutsFrozen Sherbet, Serving 9
1 cup crushed pineapple juice 1 cup lemon juice 1 cup orange juice 14 cups sugar 14 cups water

Boil sugar and water two minutes. Cool. Add rest of ingredients. Freeze until stiff.

This can be frozen by pouring into tray in mechanical refrigerator. It will require four hours to freeze.

Spiced Fingers
6 eggs yolks 1 cup pastry 14 cups sugar 1 flour 1 teaspoon cream 1 lemon extract 1 teaspoon salt 6 eggs whites, beaten

Beat yolks and sugar until creamy. Add rest of ingredients, mixing lightly. Drop portions from end of spoon onto greased baking sheets. Space three inches and flatten back of spoon until fingers are about 1 inch wide and two inches long. Bake 6 minutes in moderate oven. Cool and put together in pairs with cream filling.

Cream Filling
2 tablespoons 1 teaspoon salt 1 cup cream 1 cup chopped nuts 3 tablespoons 14 cups sifted butter 14 cups confectioner's sugar

Mix ingredients and beat two minutes. Let stand several minutes, then mix well and spread on fingers.

Iced Chocolate Serving 6
4 squares 1 teaspoon salt 1 chocolate 5 cups milk 14 cups water 14 teaspoons 1 cup sugar 14 cups vanilla

Cut chocolate in small pieces, add water, sugar and salt. Boil gently three minutes, stirring constantly. Add milk. Pour into double boiler and cook 10 minutes. Stir frequently. Add vanilla. Chill until very thick. Serve in thin glasses.

A thick cream of vanilla ice cream or whipped cream can be added to each serving if desired.

Chill ice chocolate but do not add chopped ice to it or flavor will be impaired.

and take her husband from her and orphan little on her and the woman who attempts to do this gets no more than she deserves when she is later betrayed by a man who is faithful to no man.

There is no way that you can be a man who does not love and marry him. Knowing that he is a selfish creature who is only interested in his own pleasure and who is not at all concerned for the happiness of the woman he is seducing.

Brown Admits He Obtained Funds Falsely

Judge Spengler Takes Chicago Man's Sentence Under Advisement

Neenah—Charles Brown, 33, Chicago, facing charges of obtaining money under false pretenses on two counts, in the municipal court of Judge S. L. Spengler at Oshkosh Thursday morning waived preliminary examination and pleaded guilty. His sentence was taken under advisement until Aug. 24.

Brown was arrested by Neenah police at the office of the Kimberly-Clark Corporation here Tuesday afternoon where it was said he presented an order at the cashier's window for payment on advertising. The order bore the name of S. F. Shattuck, but investigation disclosed that the signature was not genuine, according to District Attorney E. B. Keefe.

He was accused of collecting $80 at the Kimberly Clark plant on July 26 and $75 on Aug. 1. On the first occasion it was alleged he represented himself as a representative of the Trades and Labor Blue Book, and on the second occasion as a representative of the Railroad Employees association year book.

Following his arrest Tuesday, the investigation was conducted by District Attorney Keefe.

Plead Guilty to Car Theft Charge

Harry Sullivan and Albert Peters Appear in Oshkosh Municipal Court

Neenah—Harry Sullivan and Albert Peters, who have just completed 15-day sentences in the Winnebago county jail for vagrancy, were arraigned in the municipal court of Judge S. L. Spengler at Oshkosh Thursday morning to face charges of stealing an automobile owned by Roy Malchow of Menasha. Both waived preliminary examination and pleaded guilty to the information. Judge Spengler took sentence under advisement until Aug. 24.

The Malchow car was found at Menasha Aug. 2 and was taken to Appleton on the following morning, badly wrecked. On the same day, Peters and Sullivan were arrested in Oshkosh on charges of vagrancy, and when questioned admitted the theft of the Menasha car.

Police Candidates

Write Next Monday

Neenah—Written examinations of candidates for the Neenah police department will be conducted by the police commission at the Kimberly school Monday evening. Only those earning high ratings in the written examinations Monday will be required to take physical examinations, it was announced Wednesday.

Although 50 applications were taken out by candidates, 31 filled the applications before the deadline Wednesday afternoon, according to Chief of Police Charles Watts.

FEATURES SHOP

IT IS one of the curious things of nature that when an animal is introduced into a strange country, it generally does one of two things... flourishes beyond all expectations, or dies off in short order. The muskrat, the house sparrow, the cabbage butterfly, and the clothes moth are examples of immigrants that have "made good" in lands far from their native habitat. The muskrats are causing plenty of worry for the fish culturists of Central Europe by destroying the dams which form the fish ponds.

Illinois Guards Ready

For Service at Mines

Camp Grant, Ill.,—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keen instructed his staff officers at the Illinois National Guard encampment to be ready to move any part of the 33rd division into the mine trouble zone in southern Illinois.

Gen. Keen issued the order after receiving a memorandum from Adjutant General Carlos E. Black, advising him of developments in the mine area. He said he would act only if the situation got out of the hands of local authorities.

wage pact was killed by three men who drove to his home, called him to their car, and then killed him with a shot gun charge.

Woman Shot

Mrs. Clyde E. Moses, wife of a miner, suffered slight injuries from shots when, according to officials, her husband failed to stop his automobile at a barricade near the Christian-co line. Moses was jailed on charges of resisting officers.

Another coal belt county—Perry—was recruiting an army of "home guards" today to protect its union miners from protesters of the new wage scale. Groups of invading miners were unsuccessful yesterday in persuading union diggers from quitting Perry county pits.

The strikers are demanding that the $5 daily wage scale, agreed to by their officials, be abrogated and are seeking to have other diggers, willing to work at the reduced scale, stay away from the colliers until operators agree to pay the old scale of $8.10.

Leaders of the protest movement said they expected to start 2,000 men on the way to Taylorville today, where their purpose is peaceful, and have instructed their followers to carry no firearms. Nevertheless, Christian-co officials, who swore in the large army of special deputy sheriffs to protect miners willing to work at the new scale, feared a clash could not be averted if the strikers sought to pass the barricade, they have erected across all the main highways entering the county.

Opposes Movement

John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, branded the proposed march on Taylorville, as "a senseless plan."

"These men have grievances," Lewis said, but the present scale is the best that could be negotiated for them at the present time. Their contract with the operators is only of seven months duration. I strongly advise them they return to work."

Operators said approximately 25,000 men had returned to work. Others, they predicted, would return as soon as the pits were put in readiness. The mines closed March 31 when the old wage scale expired. The new scale was declared accepted by officials when tally sheets containing the results of a referendum vote by the miners were reported stolen.

State Democrats Must Conduct Own Campaign

Seward, Neb.,—Word that state Democratic organizations must "stand on their own feet" in the coming campaign has been brought to Seward from New York by J. J. Thomas, Nebraska central committee chairman. The national leaders promised him no funds, he said, and told state chairmen to report directly to New York rather than to a district chief. Thus, he said, the responsibility of supporting the national ticket was laid directly on the state organizations.

London's gas supply is piped in more than 6,400 miles of mains, and is made by carbonizing 4,097,600 tons of coal annually.

Telephones, Draheims Meet Friday Night

Menasha—Eligibility to meet the Kleenex team in a three-game series for the city championship will be at stake for the Wisconsin Telephone company's softball team in its clash with the Draheims sports at Columbian park Friday evening. The Kleenex squad captured the first round championship Monday evening. A victory for the Draheims Friday will clinch the second round lead, while a loss to Draheims will necessitate a playoff with either the Nash White Sox or Neenah Papers.

Corry Leader of Democratic Club

Ward Committees to be Named at Meeting Next Week

Menasha—Dr. F. M. Corry was elected president of the Menasha Democratic club at its organization session in the Memorial building Wednesday evening. Ward committees will be named and further organization details outlined at another meeting of the club next week.

Patrick Mackin was named vice president and Edward Heckner, secretary and treasurer. In the discussions following the election, the need for party loyalty and adherence to the straight Democratic ticket was emphasized.

Joseph Coyle opened the meeting, presided as temporary chairman, and traced the history of the Democratic party since it was founded. Since that time, Coyle pointed out, the United States has had 68 years of Democratic administration and 64 years of Republican. Six of the Democratic presidents served two terms.

Green Bay Must Win Next Three Games to Cop Valley Pennant

Entertains Collegians On Sunday

Game With Kaukauna, Aug. 28, Probably Will Be Deciding Tilt

GREEN BAY must defeat Appleton at the Bay Sunday and also score victories over Kaukauna on Aug. 28 and Shawano on Labor day to either win or be tied for first place in the Valley league race.

Never in the history of the loop has there been such a close fight and interest great all around the circuit. Wisconsin Rapids drew its largest crowd of the season at the Green Bay game last Sunday and business also boomed for the Kimberly-Kaukauna tilt in the Paper-makers' diamond.

Kaukauna is now occupying first place, one half a game ahead of the Bays and Wisconsin Rapids. Sunday, the Kaws clash with the Rapids and the losing team probably will be out of the running. Green Bay will be at home to Appleton the game being switched here from the College city.

Following is the standing of the leaders and also their percentages, win or lose, after next Sunday's contests:

	W.	L.	Pct.	W.	L.
Kaukauna	10	5	.667	688	.654
Green Bay	11	6	.647	667	.611
Wis. Rapids	11	6	.647	667	.611

Kaukauna has two postponed games that must be cleared away before the season ends. The Electric City team will play one of the games at Shawano on Sept. 4 while on Sept. 5, the Kaws are billed for a double header with Appleton. Three games in two days is a tough set-up for a club with only two pitchers.

Twin Bill With Kimberly
Wisconsin Rapids will play off its only postponed game as the second half of a double header with Kimberly on Sept. 5. The Rapids is a game ahead on the schedule, however, as they doubled up with Shawano several weeks ago.

If home games count for anything, Green Bay should have the advantage as both Appleton and Kaukauna will play here and there is a chance that the Shawano game also may be switched to Johannes park. Wisconsin Rapids will be away for all out its remaining contests and Kaukauna has but one out of five on its home lot.

New Jersey Opens Quiz Into Fight Commission Orders Investigation of Carnera-Poreda Bout

Newark, N. J.—(P)—The decision which gave Stanley Poreda of Jersey City a victory over Primo Carnera in their fight here Tuesday night has aroused a tempest of no mean proportions in New Jersey boxing circles.

It seems that so few spectators saw eye to eye with Referee Joe Mangold of Atlantic City, who awarded the decision to Poreda that George E. Keenen, New Jersey's boxing commissioner ordered the suspension of the official until all the ways and wherefores could be investigated.

Keenen turned the investigation over to John Flood, administrative agent for the athletic commission. Flood had been suspended, Mangold explained until an investigation was made with a view to clearing up any suspicion that the referee had been intimidated.

The referee gave an explanation of his scoring of the bout which indicated that he had deprived the Italian of a good many points because of the New Jersey foul law. "Poreda," he said, "was the winner because he was the aggressor, landed the most and cleanest punches and was in better shape at the finish. On the other hand, Carnera was continually guilty of foul tactics such as hugging, pushing and shoving. For this reason Carnera had points scored against him."

Chaff'n Chatter

By Gordon E. McIntyre

BASEBALL players the world over are known to be a very superstitious crowd. Watch a group of big leaguers and invariably the outfielders will walk to the bench via second base, stepping on the sack for good luck. To have bats crossed is a mortal sin in baseball, and 13 bats in the group is unheard of. A hit with a new bat means a player will use the same club every time; any little peculiarity that occurs on a day a ball player gets a couple extra hits will bring recurrence of the incident daily until the streak is broken.

And among other superstitions is that of picking up pins all of which the suspension of a player is used to tell about George Hogriever.

Years ago when Hogriever was playing with Indianapolis in the old Western league, the team went into Sioux City, Ia., needing four straight games to win the pennant. The team stopped at a hotel which was but three blocks from the ball park and the player used to walk to the scene of the day's game. Indianapolis had taken three games and on the afternoon of the fourth day an old friend of Hoggy's called at the hotel to see him just as the other players started to dress for the game. All had gone to the park when Hogriever ran upstairs, dressed and then started on a gallop for the battle.

He had hardly left the hotel when he saw a pin and stooped to pick it up, saw another and another and then a lot more. He wouldn't leave a single one, the story goes, and although he heard the bleachers yelling like mad three blocks away and knew Sioux City was ahead, he kept picking up pins and sticking them in his cap. It was the seventh inning when he entered the park.

His manager was ready to fine him and fire him on the spot but he needed Hoggy's hits. When Hogriever arrived the score was 5 and 1 for Sioux City. He finally got in to the game in the eighth pinch hitting for the third baseman. The bases were full and Hoggy's obliged by blasting the ball over the fence and tying the score.

In the tenth, with the score still tied and two out Hoggy singled and was caught off first base. Now Hoggy was a wild man on the bases under any conditions and if he had a pin on the way to the ball park you couldn't stop him. In the effort to run him down the second baseman hit him in the back with the ball as he scrambled for first. Hoggy immediately turned and dashed for second only to be hit in the head, continued on to third and then home when the short stop threw wild to the red light station. The marker was the winning run.

The episode about the pins later was solved when it was learned a Sioux City player, knowing about Hogriever's superstition, had scattered two packages of pins from the hotel to the ball park—and Hogriever found them all!

And some day when Chief George T. Prim returns from his vacation we'll tell you the story of how Hoggy's facial features can be found in a cement sidewalk in Indianapolis.

British Girls Upset Yankees At Forest Hills

Work on Theory That Americans Are Not Trained for 3 Sets

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N. Y.—(P)—America's stars, for all their mastery of stroke, might learn a valuable lesson from a pair of British girls competing in the women's national tournament at West Side Tennis club.

Mrs. Elsie Goldsack Pittman and her teammate Joan Ridley had reached the quarter-finals today largely because of their theory that physical condition is half of a tennis battle. They go in for condition in a big way, see to it that they are sound of wind and limb and let the pure mechanics of the game take care of themselves.

"It doesn't make a great deal of difference in a two-set match whether you are in top condition," said Miss Ridley, "but it will decide a three-setter almost every time. We have been beaten plenty of times, but very seldom in a match that went three sets. American girls, as a rule, do not train for a long match and are tired by the time the third set comes around."

As though to prove their point, both fair foreigners went out yesterday and won over the longer route in each instance leaving their American opponents virtually exhausted. Mrs. Pittman defeated Virginia Hilleary of Philadelphia, 6-1, 3-6, 6-1, and Miss Ridley repulsed Alice Marble, the San Francisco star, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Prospects were that both British entries would need all their stamina to survive today's quarter final matches. Mrs. Pittman, generally considered the better player of the two, was down to match strokes with blonde Mary Greaf of Kansas City, while Miss Ridley faced Mrs. Marjorie Morrell Painter, seeded No. 3 on the American list.

Miss Greaf played brilliant tennis yesterday in subduing Josephine Cruikshank, 6-1, 6-4. Other pairings today put Helen Jacobs against Mrs. John Van Ryn and Mrs. Lawrence Harper against Carolyn Babcock, Los Angeles.

Blue Devil Winner Of Valentine Cup

Lake Geneva—(P)—Blue Devil, class A craft, piloted by its owner, Tom Irvine of the White Bear Yacht club, St. Paul, Minn., yesterday won the P. A. Valentine cup, largest trophy offered in the regatta of the Inland Lakes Yachting association.

The Blue Devil went around the triangular 12-mile course in two hours and five minutes. All the boats were hurried along by a moderate to stiff westerly wind.

One minute and thirty seconds after the Blue Devil came home, crossed the finish line. Four minutes and ten seconds after the winner came independence of the Oshkosh Yacht club, owned by Camp Van Dyke.

Sports Question Box

Q.—Is it allowed for a player to wear a sweater or a wind jacket when he goes to bat?
A.—Not in major games. It is held that either of them is not a part of the regular uniform and that the possibility of being hit by a pitched ball is increased.

Q.—How old was John L. Sullivan when he lost the title to Jim Corbett? How old was Corbett?
A.—Sullivan 33, Corbett 26. Sullivan was counted out in the 21st round.

Q.—Did the National League and the American League ever disagree on the foul strike rule?
A.—Yes. The National League adopted it and the American League at first would have none of it.

Chicago Gets Chance to See Post Olympic Meet

CHICAGO—(P)—Lauri Lehtinen and Ralph Hill meet again tonight.

The two winged mercuries of the cinder path, whose close battle in the 5,000 meters race prompted one of the loudest gallery storms of the recent Olympic games, were matched over the same distance again tonight under the arc lights of Soldier Field in the feature event of a post Olympic exhibition involving track and field stars from 15 nations.

Lehtinen won the 5,000 meter Olympic title for Finland but forfeited the officials into a long huddle before they decided that he didn't purposely cross in front of Hill, University of Oregon star, twice in the final sprint. Both were credited with the same time of 14:30 for the event, however, and both extended their training activities for a final test tonight.

Luigi Piccoli of Italy, who captured the Olympic 1,500 meters championship, wasn't expected to encounter much competition in his favorite event but was out to shatter the world record. At the Los Angeles games, he was officially timed in 3:51.2, a fifth of a second short of a world mark. Bill Miller, Stanford Olympic champion, and Bill Graber of the University of Southern California, also were here for a pole vault duel.

Babe Didrikson, the "Texas Toronado," and Stella Walsh, competing for Poland, were entered in the women's event. Officials of the meet, sponsored by the Chicago Daily News, hoped to match Miss Didrikson and Miss Walsh in the 100 meter race but the Texas girl decided to confine her activities to the field events. She won the javelin throw and the 80 meter hurdles championship at the Olympic games while Miss Walsh was crowned Olympic champion in the 100 meters event.

Appleton Lutherans Finally Win Ball Game

With but two more games to be played in the Wisconsin Lutheran Kittenball league, Oshkosh is almost sure of the pennant. Oshkosh tripped Neenah Sunday, 10 to 2. Kaukauna in the meantime, was splitting a doubleheader with New London at New London, the first game going to Kaukauna, 9 to 6, the second to New London 12 to 10. Appleton turned in the biggest upset in league history when it won a doubleheader from Menasha. Up to Sunday Appleton had not won a game in league play. Bob Eggert pulled the iron man stunt for Appleton by pitching both games. He also hit two home runs and three singles. The first game score was 18 to 10 and the second game 9 to 8. Menasha got only five hits in the first game, and only three in the second.

The boys are all pepped up after their two wins and are going out Sunday and give Oshkosh the worst trimming ever. New London goes to Neenah and Kaukauna to Menasha.

Chicago Cubs Down Braves In 19 Innings

Bud Tinning Pitches 13
Frames; Yanks Win
Tenth Straight

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

It is hard to imagine a pennant race any warmer than the current National league affair in which the last place team is only 15 games behind the first and three teams are battling for the lead within a space of 2 1/2 games, but there are various signs and portents that it will become even more heated before the season ends.

Despite a record of 15 defeats in their last 17 games, many of them chargeable to left handed pitching, the Pittsburgh Pirates were only two games behind the league-leading Chicago Cubs today with the charging Brooklyn Dodgers another half game back. And Pittsburgh was threatening to stage a comeback any moment while the danger signals were flying for Chicago.

Battle 19 Innings

It took just about everything the Cubs had yesterday to turn back the Boston Braves, now holders of sixth place. They waged the longest battle of the major league campaign—19 innings before Chicago finally won out 3 to 2. Bud Tinning and Fred Frankhouse waged the major part of the struggle and the latter finally lost out when a single hit batsman and an intentional pass crowded the corners and young Frank Demaree connected with one of the first offerings of Hub Pruett, successor to Frank House, for a long fly that brought in Bill Herman with the winning run.

Although Brooklyn closed the gap between second and third to a half game with a 4-1 victory over Pittsburgh, the Cubs showed plenty of fight. A three run rally off Bill Swift in the eighth won the game, but Pittsburgh came back as soon as it was quelled and drove Freddy Hemach to cover. Van Mungo checked the threat with the bases full.

In the third National league game, Bill Terry of the New York Giants clouted a homer, two doubles and two singles while Jim Mooney was holding Cincinnati to four hits and the Giants won easily, 8 to 0. R. Am. halted the Phillies and Cardinals.

Yanks Win No. 10

Perhaps to emphasize the difference between the American league chase and the National, the New York Yankees, leaders of the junior circuit, won their tenth straight game, defeating Detroit 11 to 3, on a strong combination of steady pitching by George Pipgras and effective hitting by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. The Babe made three hits, including his thirty-fourth homer while Lou batted in three counts.

The triumph increased the Yankees' lead to 11 1/2 games as the Philadelphia Athletics regained second place from Cleveland with a 11 to 0 triumph over the Indians. Lefty Grove's four-hit hurling brought him his eighteenth victory and his fourth shutout.

Washington, in fourth place but far out of the picture, turned back the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 2 with a seventh inning rally that netted three runs off Ted Lyons. A six-hit mound performance by Paul Andrews and three blows apiece by Dale Alexander and Smead Jolley netted the Boston Red Sox a 7 to 3 triumph over the St. Louis Browns in the remaining contest.

Italy Plans to Retire 130,000 Tons of Ships

Rome —P—Approximately 130,000 tons of Italy's fleet of ships will be retired beginning Aug. 25 as a result of an economy move and a second reorganization of the Italian fleet.

These will include two battle ships, three heavy cruisers, 25 destroyers and a dozen submarines, all reasonably old but still within the age limit.

The ships will be stripped of their crews but not immediately scrapped in this condition they will continue to serve as a bargaining point when the world disarmament conference resumes its discussions at Geneva this week. Caretakers will be left aboard the ships to keep them from deteriorating.

Victoria B. C. has invited swimmers competing in the Olympiad to appear there after the games.

Would Determine Opinion on Loans

Three Members of Home
Loan Board Launch
Extensive Survey

Washington—P—Three members of the home loan bank are going into different sections of the country this week to sound out sentiment of financial institutions towards subscribing for stock in the projected home loan banks.

The board is waiting about setting up the 8 to 12 banks and carving out as many districts until it determines whether the institutions holding mortgages are willing to subscribe for the initial capital stock.

Chairman Franklin W. Fort is to confer with eastern leaders as to whether the capital stock can be subscribed.

H. Martin Bodfish will confer with Illinois, Indiana, and northwestern state group leaders at Chicago.

Under the act creating the system the board is to seek to sell stock for each of the 12 banks for an initial capital of not less than $5,000,000 each. Fort explained that the board was trying to sound out sentiment as to whether "financial groups are going along with us or whether they are going to stay out."

Supernormal Rainfall Reported in Oklahoma

Omaha—P—Omaha is getting wetter—speaking of precipitation, of course.

With almost two weeks remaining, nearly 11 inches of rainfall has been recorded here already this month. Only one August in the more than 50 years of records kept by the local weather bureau has had a greater total. In 1903 rainfall for the month was 12.50 inches.

The year 1932 already has been established as a supernormal year too. The yearly normal is 27.77 inches of precipitation. In the seven and one-half months past, Omaha has received 28.42 inches of rainfall.

Atlanta—Atlanta's navy may be a dry land one, with no navigable waters in reach, but it's a fine one at that. The local naval reserve unit has won its second award as the best organization of its kind in the country.

Wage Battle in Three States in Farmers' Strike

Highway Blockade Spreads
To Nebraska and South Dakota

Sioux City, La.—P—The "battle of the highway" resulting from strikes by farmers for higher prices, was being fought on three fronts today—Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota.

Extending their blockade of Iowa and South Dakota highways into Nebraska, picketing was under way Monday, was announced by J. F. Kneegs, a farmer who said that picket lines were being set up to stop the market in South Dakota, on all sides, and the situation appeared serious.

enough to Sheriff Hugh Slocum at Stevens, S. D., to appeal to the state sheriff for help.

Sheriff Slocum declined to make his appeal after a group of about 100 farmers, picketing a highway at Stevens, forced him and his deputies to stop escorting a fleet of five trucks to Sioux City.

One man was fired in the air by the sheriff, who was overpowered by the farmers and relieved of his weapon. It was the first shot fired anywhere in the area affected by the strike, one of which is being waged by wheat producers and the other by farmers who have declared a strike on selling all kinds of agricultural products.

A number of Nebraska farmers, who have been under attack by the blockade of Iowa and South Dakota, were announced by J. F. Kneegs, a farmer who said that picket lines were being set up to stop the market in South Dakota, on all sides, and the situation appeared serious.

southeastern South Dakota and northeastern Nebraska meanwhile took further precautions to preserve order. Sheriff Ralph Ruppey of Plymouth-co increased his force of deputies by 20 men while authorities of neighboring counties in all three states consolidated their forces to break the blockade.

Only two arrests have been made thus far in the strike. Two farmers were committed to jail in Le Mars for allegedly having blocked the progress of deputies and attempting to run down one of the strikers.

The most serious clash of the campaign in Iowa occurred late Monday on the Converseville road. Three Lusk trucks with a number of the county's 60 special deputies engaged to them rushed the blockade. A Lusk truck smashed through legs and other objects barring the way while the two lighter vehicles swung aside and went directly through the crowd of picketing farmers.

All of the latter leaped into the clear, however, and started in pursuit but were outdistanced.

STEPPED UP

is higher in anti-knock than some premium gasolines... Extra PEP! Extra MILES!... but no extra price!

From Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to Miami, Florida, motorists everywhere are cashing in on the benefits from the new Sinclair Regular Gasoline. We have published the sensational sales increases made by the new Sinclair Regular far and wide—not only as an advertisement—but to show America that the back of the depression can be broken if you give people more for their money than they ever got before.

Sinclair spent $18,000,000 on new refinery equipment to step up the anti-knock quality of Sinclair Regular Gasoline by 70%. The new Sinclair Regular actually has a higher anti-knock rating than some premium fuels which cost you 3 cents more per gallon!

Give this new high-test motor fuel a 30 day trial. Let the results convince you. Ask for the new Sinclair Regular Gasoline, stepped up 70%.

NOTE: For best results, use Sinclair Opaline or Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. Both have been de-waxed, and also freed from petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero.

The Faithful Cheat

Chapter 20
LOOKING FOR A REFUGE
BEATRICE knew everything, of course—knew that Flora was not coming back, knew that Sondra herself had no home and no money.
Well, Beatrice wasn't her only friend—there were other people who had always been only too glad to have her with them—she could ring up at least half a dozen and suggest inflicting herself upon them for a week or two.
But the Macays were going out of town—the Longdons had the young son of the family home from school with a broken leg—the Leighs were full of "relations from the country—so deadly dull, Sondra—and at last in despair she gave up the attempt to find a refuge.
She had never dreamed that she would be in such a desperate plight, and her courage almost failed.
Useless to remember her father's chummy optimism.
"Never despair," he was found of saying. "When one door shuts, another always opens—" he had always insisted upon the truth of this, even to his dying day, and after every available door had been slammed in his optimistic countenance.
"It was a mistake—a dreadful mistake," she told herself in an agony of mind. "Why was I such a fool?"
Ben's money was all that stood between her and life; how long could she make it last?
Sondra had never known the value of money—like her father she had always had everything she wanted whether she could pay for it or not, but then there had always been Flora to fall back upon... now there was nobody.
"I suppose I might get a job as a mannequin—" she thought drearily, but what a job!
For the next two days she made no plans—she went about everywhere, and laughed and skillfully parried the many pertinent questions that were showered upon her, although there was an ever growing fear in her heart, and then as she was going out to dine with some people on the Thursday night Lomax stopped her in the hall.
"I leave early in the morning, so I shall not see you again. Can you give me your new address in case I want to get in touch with you?"
"My new address?" Sondra stammered—so this was indeed the end, she had come upon a high wall that shut out the future; no miracle was going to happen, she was at last thrown entirely on her own resources.
In desperation she gave the address of a friend—"I shall be there for the next week or two."
Lomax made a careful note of it, and then turned away without even a handshake.
Sondra followed him to ask one last question.
"Flora? Have you heard from her?"
"No—" for a moment a look of great pain crossed his face, rather ugly face, but it was quickly gone. "She has made her bed, and she can lie on it," he said, brutally.
Sondra laughed.
"Well, it's something to have made it," she said flippantly.
It was more than she had done, and she had no idea where she could go when tomorrow came.
When she arrived at the house where she was to dine, the first person she saw was John Anderson. He crossed the room to her at once.
"How are you Sondra?"
She shrugged her shoulders.
"Why do people always ask such a silly question?" she said with nervous irritation. "If I were ill or dying, I suppose you would have heard it—people always hear unpleasant things quickly enough."
"Yes," he agreed, and then after a moment, "I am sorry about your sister."
"There isn't any special need for sorrow," Sondra said. "She has been able to do what she wanted, and that's more than many of us can say."
He looked at her gravely.
"And it is true that Lomax is going away?" he asked.
"Quite true; he sails tomorrow. We had a touching farewell in the hall tonight. The house is to be shut up."
"And you—where are you going?"
She looked up at him with too bright eyes.
"Do you know—" she said mockingly, "I have the kind of feeling that you would like me to say 'to the devil'—but it's nothing so romantic. I am merely going to a hotel until I can make plans."
"Won't that be dull? Surely you must have dozens of friends you could stay with."
"Do you think so?" she was conscious of a sudden tightening in her throat. "Perhaps I would rather be alone."
"You are too young to wander about by yourself."
She laughed. "Did I say I proposed wandering? I'm afraid there is nothing so exciting in store for me."
"Why should you be so interested?"
"Only because I shall probably be out of town for the next few days, and I should like to know where you are to be found."
"How very kind of you."
He ignored the sarcasm.
"Does that mean you have no intention of telling me?" he asked.
"It doesn't mean anything—perhaps I'll write and tell you, only I'm not very good at letter writing—" she added deliberately echoing the words he had spoken to her in the park.
Anderson changed the conversation.
"I had news of young Merriman this morning."
Sondra turned her face away.
"Oh, did you? How is he?"
"Unfortunately he has already gone down with a touch of fever. It seems amazing—he should have got it so soon, a man of his physique."
She looked at him swiftly.
"Fever? Is that anything... serious?"
"Oh, no; everyone has it more or less, but he's been out there such a short time."
There was a little silence. "I hope he will be all right," Sondra murmured.
"Sure to be; you need not worry."
"I—worry?" she laughed nervously. "What queer things you say."
He did not speak for a moment, then he said—
"Sondra, may I ask you something... rather personal?"
Her heart missed a beat. Was it about Mark?—how much did he know or suspect?
"As me anything you like—" she told him carelessly. "But I don't promise to answer, and anyway, why not leave it till later? We are sure to be sent in to dinner together," she added with a touch of sarcasm.
"I am afraid not," Anderson said. "I've just been told that I am to escort Miss Symons."
"Oh," Sondra's lips felt cold. "Well, in that case—" she said with an effort, "you had better ask me this very personal question now—I shall be leaving soon after dinner."
"It's about your future, Sondra."
"My future? That sounds terribly dramatic!... What possibly interest can it be to you?"
"Only the interest of friendship. You must forgive me, but I know that as far as money matters—" She cut him short with a quick laugh.
"Oh, but that's where you are utterly mistaken. My brother-in-law has been most amazingly generous—so generous in fact that I intend repaying... some of my debts."
There was a profound silence, then Anderson said quietly—
"I am glad Lomax has been generous."
He waited a moment, then as another man joined them, he bowed and left her.
It was a miserable evening for Sondra: down the long table she could see Anderson very attentive to Nathalie Symons, and never once glancing her way.
As soon as dinner was over, Sondra tried to escape.
(Copyright, 1932, by Ruby M. Ayres)

In the midst of attempts to adjust herself to her new life, in the next installment, Sondra gets word from Mark.

Observers Say Governor Must Remove Walker

Political Strategists Skeptical—Mayor May Leave Choice to Voters

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
New York—Unless Mayor Walker resigns, he is going to be removed from office by Governor Roosevelt. Court action may possibly delay the decision but will not ultimately affect the outcome of one of the most sensational investigations since the days of Tweed.

Disinterested political observers are almost unanimous in their belief that the governor has no choice based upon the evidence submitted but to remove the mayor. The trend of sentiment is strongly against the mayor in that his explanations of conduct in office have failed to clear up his handling of large sums of money.

The revelation that much money passed through an unnamed woman has been expected for some time but nevertheless comes as a distinct surprise to those who have believed that the mayor's personal affairs in finance were not going to be an issue at all. Mr. Roosevelt now is in the position where the people of the state who condemn the mayor's conduct in office will insist upon removal merely on the basis of the testimony thus far.

People May Decide
Under the circumstances the mayor has an opportunity to take the case away from the governor and put it up to the people of New York City to decide. He can be a candidate in the autumn election for mayor if he resigns, but if he is removed, it has been believed for some time that the mayor would select a dramatic moment to accuse his opponents of unfairness and would resign in order to submit his appeal to the people of New York City, arguing that one man should not decide his case but that the people should have that responsibility.

Some of the mayor's friends are confident that Mr. Roosevelt will not remove the mayor because of the political consequences of such an act. They point out that the mayor is popular in New York City and that he has enough support to take revenge and prevent Roosevelt from carrying New York state by depriving him of the immense New York City vote so essential to a Democratic nominee. There is some question, on the other hand, whether, if the mayor resigns, it might help Roosevelt because in the desire to vote for the mayor many would vote the straight Democratic ticket.

Expect Removal
If the courts interfere and restrain the governor from deciding the case at this time and delay it beyond election, some of the Roosevelt supporters feel that the outcome will be just the same—that the mayor will be removed. On the other hand, they are not anxious to have the courts interfere because they think this will be the basis of criticism of Roosevelt on the ground that he should have acted first and let the courts decide on his powers of removal afterwards.

The whole situation now is involved in national politics. The Republicans are watching the case, feeling that if Roosevelt makes a misstep it will hurt him nationally. Conversely, the supporters of the mayor are saying that if Roosevelt makes a misstep it will hurt him locally, may cost him New York state and possibly the national election.

The New York governor is maintaining a judicial attitude, trying in every way to give the mayor a fair trial and undoubtedly building up a background on which public

Dog Saves Farmer From Being Injured By Infuriated Bull

Wymore, Neb.—(P)—If John Norty, who keeps a bull, hadn't kept a bulldog also, this would be another story.
The bull became infuriated yesterday and chased Norty around the yard on his farm near Barnston. He dodged into a barn but the animal cornered him and pinned him to the ground but the pet bulldog arrived and fought off the bull while Norty escaped.

Six Dozen Jars are Donated to Indigents

About six dozen mason jars have been donated to Appleton indigents, in response to the appeal made last week by Joseph E. Schweitzer, commissioner of public relief. These jars will be turned over to poor families who will now be able to preserve any surplus garden stuff.

In addition to the empty cans about 35 quarts of preserves from last year were turned over to the relief department for distribution among indigents.

Authorize Railroad to Borrow Funds for Loans

Washington—(P)—The Boston and Maine railroad was authorized by the Interstate Commerce commission Wednesday to borrow $10,000,000 from the Reconstruction Corporation to repay $2,563,000 on bank loans, $5,391,000 on bonds maturing Jan. 1 and Feb. 1 and equipment trust certificates and current vouchers.

opinion will say that the governor had no other course but to remove the mayor. So far as is known the governor has not communicated his probable decision to anybody and the case is being conducted with judicial restraint rather than as a political battle.

OLD NATCHEZ HOMESTEAD SCENE OF MURDER MYSTERY

Glenn Burnne, the old Natchez (Miss.) homestead now the center of a weird murder mystery which has bared two blighted romances of the aristocratic south of a half century ago, is shown above. Richard Dana, 61, eccentric nephew of Charles A. Dana, famous journalist, and Octavia Dockrey, 60, the former's housekeeper and guardian, were held for questioning at Natchez after the bullet-riddled body of Jane Surget Merrill, 72, daughter of the late Ayres Merrill, former U. S. ambassador to Belgium, was found in bushes fringing the Merrill homestead, Glenn Burnne, where she lived alone for 40 years. Arrow indicates where bloody trail leading to body was found by Duncan Minor, a neighbor, who courted Jane Merrill years ago. Bloody fingerprints found in the house identified tentatively as those of Dana. Miss Dockrey, daughter of Confederate Brigadier-General T. P. Dockrey, spurned society to become housekeeper of Dana, the man she loved. The two women had quarreled for years because Miss Dockrey's goats strayed onto the Merrill estate, neighbors said.

Snapshots Recall Camp Activities of Boys

Camp days may be over for the Y. M. C. A. boys attending Camp Onaway, Waupaca, this summer, but all the various activities of this year's camp have been caught in snapshots now on display in the boys' department.

Nearly every phase of camp work from colors in the morning to campfire programs at night on the island are included in the group of pictures taken under the direction of C. C. Bailey, camp director and head of the boys' department.

The pictures show the various canoe trips up lakes and rivers, portages to streams on overnight hikes, activities around the glowing campfire, chapel on Sunday, the huge catch of two boys on a successful fishing jaunt, baseball games in action, swimming and diving from the board.

One of the interesting activities are shown on a long birch pole which was strung between two piers. This was the favorite spot for the boys to hold a boxing bout or pillow fight with the loser top-piling into the water below. Water fights, in which the campers tried to sink the opponents' boats by filling them with water is another activity that is shown in the scrapbook shots.

Want Engineers To Investigate Phone Company

Personnel Bureau to Conduct Examinations On Sept. 2

Madison—(P)—Two moves were made Wednesday to expedite pending investigations of various Wisconsin public utilities by the Public Service commission.

The utility committee of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities made public a letter it sent to the commission urging it to hire all the accountants and engineers necessary to carry on the investigations.

The state bureau of personnel, at the same time announced examinations will be held on Sept. 2 for three positions with the Public Service commission: An electrical engineer to be paid a minimum of $333 a month; a senior assistant electrical engineer at $250 a month and an assistant electrical engineer at $200 a month.

They are to be employed in the statewide investigation of the Wisconsin Telephone company, the engineering work of which has been done chiefly by a Chicago firm under contract because the commission did not have engineers available.

Investigations of a number of other utilities furnishing light and power services on a large scale are underway.

Want No Politics
The utility committee of the League of Municipalities said it hoped the investigations "will not be used by any political faction as a football to toss at the makers." "This committee feels that the Public Service commission was first inaugurated and set up to investigate all utilities, both private and public, and they feel that the work has been sorely neglected in the past," the letter said. "It was this fact that caused the legislature to enact a new law allowing the public service commission to assess against any utility investigated the costs of such investigations. We earnestly hope the bureau of personnel will cooperate with you and see that Wisconsin obtains the best men available no matter where they may be compelled to search for them, to carry on these investigations at once."

Very Severe Itching Pimples Disfigured Face. Cuticura Healed.

"I had so much trouble with a breaking out of pimples on my face. They were scattered and were hard, large and red. The itching was very severe and I could not rest at night. When I scratched them they would break and bleed and disfigure my face."

"I tried everything I could think of but failed in the attempt to clear my face. Then I learned about Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased some, and in six weeks I was completely healed, after using two boxes of the Ointment and three cakes of Cuticura Soap." (Signed) Mrs. V. "Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

THE DARK AND BLOODY GROUND

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by N. C. Wyeth, noted painter of the American Indian...inspired by the fierce cruelty of the savages whose knives and tomahawks caused the story of the Pioneer West to be written in blood.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies . . . the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"

—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will seek a better path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
